

Four Storey Packing House Is To Be Constructed By Local Growers' Exchange

Building To Be Fully Frost-Proof, With Graders On The Top Floor And Five Unloading Stages—Will Cost Approximately $50,000.00

The immediate construction of a $50,000 packing house for the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, four stories high, the top floor to be reserved for graders, with elevators and belt accommodation, was authorized at a special general meeting of the Association on Tuesday, at the Orange Hall, with the President, Col. W. H. Moodie, in the chair.

The building will be fully frost-proof, and will provide five unloading stages. Tenders for construction will be called for, and the contract will be let to a contractor who will give preference to the employment of local workmen. It was made clear that two weeks grace would be allowed any growers who wished to withdraw from their contracts in view of the new project.

The main point of contention among those present was the fact that market conditions had been poor in 1935, and the outlook for crop prospects in 1936 was uncertain, therefore shareholders should not be asked to assume further liability at this time. Mr. O. St. P. Aitkens voiced the opinion that a decision of the meeting would be a snap judgment and that more time should be given to the growers to study the proposal.

These objections were met by the Directors with an account of the inefficiencies suffered under present conditions and an explanation of the advisability of building at the present time. Col. Moodie pointed out that although the 1936 outlook was doubtful, the Exchange was a growing concern and the ultimate value of the building would outweigh the present objections to it. He pointed out that the packing house facilities are inadequate to meet present needs. The entrance caused a considerable delay in hauling. There was, in addition, no possible accommodation for the new rotary grader, the purchase of which was authorized last year, but which was not bought, as it was felt that it would entail more makeshift arrangements.

Mr. D. Macfarlane, manager of the Association, submitted last year's figures showing revenue from cold storage space will be seriously curtailed unless more space is provided for the needs of the Exchange.

Mr. Macfarlane also pointed out that, owing to the limited space, the Exchange had been forced to request many growers to postpone the picking and hauling of their apples. Many of these were caught in the disastrous frost of last fall, which had placed direct responsibility for a recurrence of last year's disaster on growers who would turn down the proposed building.

It was pointed out by Mr. R. Cheyne that building costs are rising, while Col. Moodie stated that the credit of the Exchange was good, and that a loan could be negotiated with the bank.

The motion for authorization to proceed with the erection of the building was then put to the meeting, and carried by a large majority of fifty-two to seven.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. E. J. Chambers, President and Manager of the Associated Growers, who reported on the general marketing situation for 1935 and answered questions arising from his remarks.

Forty-Five Per Cent Of Frosted Apples Sold

Col. Moodie then reported on the frosted apple situation, stating that 45 per cent of all frosted apples had been disposed of, these were not the final returns. No decision had been reached on the amount of compensation to be made.

Appreciation Of Services Of Hon. Grote Stirling

A letter of appreciation will be sent the Hon. Grote Stirling, in recognition of his stand on the Marketing Act, as the result of a resolution moved by Mr. O. St. P. Aitkens.

The attendance numbered approximately sixty growers together with Capt. C. H. Taylor, Messrs. L. E. Marshall, A. C. Loosmore and J. Spaul, Directors, Mr. D. Macfarlane, Manager, and Mr. G. W. Hammond, Secretary-Treasurer.

BIG REPLACEMENT ON WEST KOOTENAY MAIN LINE

Fifty Miles Of Construction In This Year's Programme

OLIVER, April 2.—The West Kootenay Light and Power Company will re-build some fifty miles of power line from Greenwood west, according to information available here today.

MARKED INCREASE IN DOMINION COLLECTIONS

Output Of Kelowna Shows Gain Of $3,675.86 For Fiscal Year

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1936, National Revenue collections at the Output of Kelowna totaled $30,457.07, as compared with a total of $26,781.21 for the previous fiscal year ending March 31, 1935. This is a gain of nearly 14 per cent and reflects the growing importance of Kelowna as a business centre.

COLD STORAGE PROPOSED FOR WOODS LAKE

Scheme To Erect $60,000 Building Under Consideration By Vernon Fruit Union

The question of building a new $60,000 centralizing packing house and cold storage plant at the south end of Woods Lake, for the benefit of Oyanama and possibly Okanagan Centre growers, is being studied by shareholders of the Vernon Fruit Union, and received discussion at the annual meeting of the Union on Monday afternoon, although no action was taken at the meeting, as there is, as yet, no definite proposal to submit.

Investigation by the Directors has resulted in the opinion that the south end of Woods Lake is the logical point for construction, as it is the centre of the area needing service and is on the road, railroad and lake.

An important consideration in the scheme is that, if the project is completed, a portion of the tonnage produced at Oyanama would come direct to this plant, as it would be just as near to the new house as to the Oyanama packing facilities. This would mean that only such repairs as are necessary to keep the Oyanama plant in good shape would go through, and the money which would otherwise be necessary for the Oyanama plant could be put towards the new one. At Oyanama, crop has been increasing, and it has been felt that whenever a large crop is in prospect, further facilities will be necessary. The site of the present plant there does not give any opportunity for this expansion.

At Okanagan Centre the situation would be largely governed by the arrangements made with the Okanagan Valley Land Company. If the contracts were renewed, then a portion of the Okanagan Centre tonnage would continue through this channel, but there would still be a considerable portion available for the new house. Winfield growers expressed themselves as being agreeable to come into the scheme if any arrangements could be made, particularly in view of the fact that cold storage facilities were proposed.

In regard to the financing of such a project, the Directors explained that they had estimated a one cent per box increase in the share rebate over five or six years would provide a fair portion of the capital necessary.

If the government gives a grant, it would mean $20,000, and the balance could be expected to come out of funds at the disposal of the organization from depreciation deductions. The entire project is under consideration, and it is impossible to say definitely what the final and complete recommendation will be. The report offered at the meeting was considered entirely in the light of a progress report.

BIG CREW AGAIN EMPLOYED AT NICKEL PLATE

Pay Roll Last Year Amounted To Quarter Of A Million Dollars

Among news of renewed activity in the various mines in the vicinity of Hedley is a report of progress and the installation of a considerable amount of machinery at the Nickel Plate mine, re-opened and managed by the Kelowna Exploration Company.

Great improvements have been made since the company took over a little more than a year ago, a new vanner and tables have been secured, and the process of flotation is used exclusively for separation.

The crew now numbers 160 men, with a pay roll of $240,000 last year.

An extensive programme of hydro-electric power development has been shelved for the time being and the company is using West Kootenay power.

NO SHORTER HOURS FOR BRITISH POSTAL WORKERS

LONDON, April 2.—The Postmaster General today turned down a request from postal workers for a forty hour, five day week.

NO DEFINITE DATE FOR HEARING ON FEDERAL BUILDING

Contrary to reports current, there is no definite knowledge as to when Mr. H. V. Craig, who is in Ottawa to press for the speedy erection of a federal building here, will obtain a hearing, according to Mr. D. H. Hattenbury, who is among the local men interested.

Kelowna citizens are awaiting, with considerable interest, the first reports on the success of Mr. Craig's mission, and are wishing him the best of luck.

SLIGHT EARTH TREMOR FELT IN OKANAGAN

Shock Heaviest In Vernon—Little Damage Beyond Breakage Of Crockery

Kelowna and most of the northern Okanagan Valley experienced a slight earthquake shock at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday morning. Telephone operators on duty here distinctly felt the tremor, as did various citizens.

Vernon received the heaviest portion of the tremor in the interior. Pictures swayed, furniture was moved about, and a considerable quantity of crockery and china was broken in numerous homes.

Kamloops and Salmon Arm reported shocks of slight intensity. The area affected is considered to have been bounded by Kamloops on the North, Kelowna on the south, Lumby and Merritt on the east and west respectively.

The seismographic records at the Gonzales observatory in Victoria showed that a slight earth disturbance had occurred, but the shocks were so faint that they were not powerful enough to be shown on the paper record of the machine.

DUNNING READY TO NEGOTIATE WITH ALBERTA

Finance Minister Considers Aberhart's Perpetual Securities Plan Not Feasible

OTTAWA, April 2.—Finance Minister Dunning opened the door today for negotiations with Alberta, and offered to wipe the slate clean and start anew, under certain conditions.

Premier Aberhart's compulsory refunding scheme, announced in the Legislature yesterday at Edmonton, provides for no payment of principal, but rather treats the whole $160,000,000 debt as perpetual bonds. Under this bill, Alberta would pay interest for ever on these, but only at 2.5 per cent.

Dunning expressed the belief that this "perpetual securities" plan would never work, and that it cannot be fairly compared with British Consols, because they are backed by the government and only issued at favourable times. He declared that the Dominion cannot go on permitting the provinces to borrow anywhere, and at any time, with the Dominion guaranteeing the investors that everything will be all right.

The fact that Canadian bonds, in general, were little upset by Alberta's default yesterday is taken here as an indication of world approval of Dunning's supervision policy. Yesterday's announcements, however, are creating considerable alarm in government and financial circles here.

CORONATION SET FOR MAY OF NEXT YEAR

Overseas Representatives Will Be Invited To Attend

LONDON, April 2.—Premier Stanley Baldwin announced today that King Edward has approved arrangements for his coronation ceremony to be held in May 1937. The actual date will be announced as soon as possible. Representatives of the Dominions, India and the colonies will be invited.

Steps To Be Taken To Ensure Continuance Of B.C.F.G.A. If Marketing Act Disallowed

ABOLITION ASKED OF PUBLIC WORKS TRUCK LICENCES

New Impost Works Hardship On Growers Who Seek To Supplement Meagre Returns

A representation to the Provincial government, protesting against the imposition of the additional Public Works Department licences on trucks in this province engaged in hauling was urged at the Directors' meeting of the B.C.F.G.A. in Kelowna Tuesday. It was decided to inform the government clearly as to just how these additional licences affected the small fruit grower, who often depends upon a small revenue from his truck to make his season profitable.

The various grower associations of the province, the Union Growers, Tomato Growers, The Vegetable Board, etc., are understood to be definitely behind any effort for abolishing these licences.

Mr. W. Keirn, of Creston, took the stand that this extra cost for trucking concerns must eventually come from the pockets of the primary producers, and further, these heavy taxes will virtually eliminate the extra revenue from trucking that many small growers depend on to see them through the season.

"There are a number of growers in my district who are being kept off the relief rolls only through the money they are able to make from odd trucking," stated Mr. Keirn.

WHY ABERHART REFUSES LOAN COUNCIL CONTROL

Alberta Premier Said To Fear Interference With Social Credit Plans

OTTAWA, April 2.—The real reason why Premier Aberhart of Alberta flatly refused to accept the rulings of the Loan Council was revealed here today by John Blackmore, Social Credit member in the House of Commons, who stated that Aberhart believes any control of the provincial finances by the Loan Council will prevent him raising funds to put his Social Credit plans into operation.

In a telephone interview with the London Express yesterday, Mr. Aberhart said that he will now go ahead with his plans to pay dividends of $5 per month and to establish a Social Credit Bank.

DOMESTIC MARKET PREFERS MCINTOSH TO OTHER APPLES

Box Pack Found To Be More Popular Than Bulk Amongst Prairie Farmers

A striking preference throughout the domestic market for the Okanagan Valley McIntosh Red variety of apple is shown in an interesting table of statistics pertaining to the fruit trade which has been prepared for the Tree Fruit Board.

Prairie farmers were outspoken in their preference, 52 per cent being united in the demand for this variety. As only 77 of those questioned here, a high one. Housewives throughout the Dominion expressed similar sentiments, 52 per cent of them giving McIntosh as their favourite apple, and again over 16 per cent had no preference, thus increasing the percentage.

The McIntosh holdings are finding a market in the East, where they are meeting competition from American fruit successfully.

In apparently direct refutation of the theory that the farmer likes to buy his apples in bulk, are the results of an inquiry held among prairie farmers. The results show that in regard to the fall varieties, 71 per cent of those questioned expressed a preference for box pack and make their purchases in that way, 25 per cent buy by 25-cent quantities and the remainder in other ways. The winter apples showed a slight increase in the box pack, 74.5 per cent having purchased their apples in this way, 22 per cent by 25-cent quantities and 3.5 per cent by other ways.

Prairie farmers do provide a considerable market for Okanagan apples, as was proven in a survey that showed that in regard to fall varieties, 29.1 per cent of those questioned all year had them, 19.5 per cent occasionally, and only 7.4 never had this fruit on the premises. A slight increase in the number always having stocks of winter apples was noted, when 31.4 per cent answered in the affirmative.

Returns for the domestic shipments will hold up well in comparison with last year, and should be better, in the opinion of Mr. G. A. Barrat of the Tree Fruit Board. He explained that the export returns will be good in some cases and poor in others.

Decision On Validity Of Legislation Is Expected On Or About April 28th, When Spring Session Of Supreme Court Commences

DIRECTORS TO FORM TARIFF COMMITTEE

THE date when the Supreme Court is likely to hand down its decision on the validity of the Natural Products Marketing Act, and whether that decision will be favourable or not, were two unknown quantities that were of primary importance in the various discussions at the Directors' meeting of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, which met in Kelowna on Tuesday, March 31st, in an all day session.

While nothing definite is known in regard to either question, there is a strong feeling that the decision will be given on April 28th. The reason for picking on this date is that it marks the beginning of the spring session of the Court, and it has been the custom of that body to hand down decisions that have been delayed in the winter session before going into the spring term.

PRICE CUTTING DEPRECATED BY B.C.F.G.A.

In reply to a letter from Mr. Everard Clarke, of the Okanagan Co-Operative Creamery, in regard to the butter war which is in progress at present in the north Okanagan, and requesting the support of the B.C.F.G.A., the following resolution was passed at the Directors' meeting of the Association, on Tuesday:

"Whereas the B.C.F.G.A. has always supported any co-operative effort to keep the prices of primary products stabilized, as it is always the primary producer that pays for the amounts involved in the cutting of prices, be it resolved that the Directors of the B.C.F.G.A. go on record as deploring the action of anybody that endeavours to increase sales by the practice of cutting prices."

Mr. Haskins, of the Tree Fruit Board, expressed himself as feeling that the primary producer's returns are never too high, and that the consumers' interests are always looked after by themselves. He was of the opinion that this community as a whole should frown on the practice of cutting prices.

VERNON GOLF CLUB OPENS APRIL 13TH

VERNON, April 2.—The official opening of the Vernon Golf Club for the 1936 season will be held on Easter Monday, April 13th. Play for the Nangle Cup, for men's foursome competition, will take place on Good Friday, April 10th.

Considerable alterations have been made on the golf course, and a good season's play is anticipated.

KELOWNA RINKS AT VERNON BONSPIEL

Curlers Back On Ice After Three Weeks Lay-Off

VERNON, April 2.—After three weeks inactivity on account of lack of ice, curlers will again come into their own today, Thursday, when twenty-four rinks will take part in a bonspiel here. Two rinks will come from Kelowna, two from Armstrong, one from Endorby, and the remaining nineteen from Vernon and district.

To make sure that there will be an available supply of ice, in case of a sudden thaw, arrangements have been made to bring in "dry" ice. This will make the first time that this experiment has been tried on local ice.

PRESIDENT WILL ADDRESS LOCAL CONSERVATIVES

Dr. F. P. Patterson Will Speak At Annual Meeting Of South Okanagan Association

The annual meeting of the South Okanagan Conservative Association will be held in Kelowna on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 21st, at the Board of Trade room, according to information received from Mr. E. C. Weddell, Secretary of the organization. The meeting will be addressed by Dr. F. P. Patterson, of Vancouver, President of the British Columbia Conservative Association.

The meeting will deal principally with the election of officers and of delegates to the provincial convention, which will be held in Vancouver on June 15th.

Between fifty and fifty-five members are expected to be present, coming from Kelowna and District, Summerland, Peachland, Winfield, Okanagan Centre, and other points within the district. Delegates come from each polling division, on a representation basis.

The meeting opened with the President, Mr. A. K. Loyd, in the chair. Attending were Captain H. A. Porteous, Oliver, Mr. W. Keirn, Creston; Captain D. M. Rattray, Salmon Arm; Mr. Percy French, Vernon, and Mr. R. F. Borrett, Secretary-Treasurer. Messrs. W. E. Haskins, O. W. Hembling and G. A. Barrat, members of the Tree Fruit Board, were present as ex-officio members of the Board of Directors.

It was definitely decided at the meeting that steps would be taken to ensure the continuance of the B.C.F.G.A., should an adverse decision be handed down on the Act.

Tariff Committee

A new committee, to be known as the Tariff Committee, which will be in touch at all times with this important branch of work, will be appointed by the Directors. At the present time there is no official link to provide knowledge pertaining to such conditions, and representations asking for the formation of such a committee have been received from several Locals and others interested.

Transportation Committee

The standing Committee on Transportation will be re-elected, with a further proviso that one of the Board of Directors shall sit in on any meetings as may be seen fit, and it was also suggested that there be some grower representation, if only in a listening capacity. The present members are Messrs. M. V. McGuire, Vernon, L. R. Stephens, Kelowna, and H. E. Ever, Vernon. It is understood that Mr. J. G. Robison, of Vernon, has resigned his post on this committee.

Grades Committee

In regard to the Grades Committee, it was decided that for the coming year there was a necessity for having representation from Vernon and Summerland. This committee, in all probability, will be dissolved and re-appointed. It was pointed out that as wide a representation as possible was desirable, but as this committee had to be available to be called together at a moment's notice, owing to the fact that decisions for Ottawa often had to be given within twenty-four hours, it was absolutely essential that this body be within easy distance of some central point.

DOCTORATE FOR MINISTER OF UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. W. McPherson Completes Tests For Degree Of Doctor Of Theology

The initials "D.D." after the name of a clergyman, denoting possession of the degree of Doctor of Divinity, are quite familiar to the general public, and it is also fairly well known that this degree is usually bestowed "honoris causa," or without examination, in recognition of eminent services to the cause of religion. It is a comparatively rare distinction, on the other hand, when a minister of religion earns a doctorate in theology by test of scholarship through a series of difficult examinations and the composition of a thesis. Such an honour has come to a Kelowna clergyman in the person of Rev. W. W. McPherson, B.A., B.D., minister of First United Church, who has received notification from the Dean of the United Theological College, Montreal, that the reports of the examiners of his thesis have now all been received and have been submitted to the Faculty with satisfactory results, and that the Faculty is now in a position to recommend that the degree of D. Th. (Doctor Theologiae), by examination and thesis, be conferred upon him at the next Convocation of the College.

The subject of the thesis was "The Life That Produced the New Testament." The Dean, Rev. Dr. D. L. Ritchie, concluded his letter by congratulating Mr. McPherson on the happy result of all his studies and upon the quality of his thesis. The people of Kelowna will join in the congratulations and wish the minister of First United many years in which to wear the honours of his scholarship and continued success in his work.

FAKERS AND FAKERS

Amongst the strange anomalies in the administration of justice in British Columbia is the tolerance shown to clairvoyants, mystics, teacup readers and other self-styled seers, who profess to be able to pry into the future for the sake of a reward in sordid lucre from two bits upwards, according to the generosity and credulity of their dupes. The advertisements of such people were counted in one day's issue last week of two of the Vancouver dailies. There were seventeen in the Sun and eleven in the Province. Some of the announcements stated the remuneration expected as "donation," others specified a fee ranging from a quarter to a dollar, while a few professed to give "readings" free. If all these fakirs make a decent living, it means that a considerable sum of money is paid out to them daily by foolish people whose curiosity is stronger than their common sense.

Fortune telling is an offence against the Criminal Code, yet these harpies in Vancouver are permitted to ply their illegal trade without restraint. On the other hand, let a mining promoter issue a prospectus of a sanguine character, based upon excellent surface showings of mineral but in undeveloped ledges, and the boot is put to him with a vengeance. In fact, application of the provincial "blue sky" law has been so severe in a number of cases that bona fide mining men who are by no means fakirs are beginning to protest against its adverse effects upon development, especially in regard to ventures that, by reason of their circumstances, cannot be other than speculative.

A fair and honest chance, no matter how risky, is an entirely different thing from a blasphemous fake that arrogates supernatural powers to people whose sole motive is greed of gain from easy marks. It is not to the credit of the wisdom and discernment of those in authority that fortune tellers should be permitted to prey upon superstitious people without molestation while mining promoters, no matter how genuine their schemes, are closely checked and made to toe the line.

THE MORE CANADIAN DOLLARS THE MERRIER

An excellent move has been started by the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Board of Trade to encourage the use of the silver dollar issue from the Mint. Local bank managers are being contacted with the idea that they co-operate and bring in large quantities of this coinage. Local storekeepers have pledged their assistance, and a considerable increase in the number of these coins in circulation in this part of the province is anticipated.

There may be some question in the minds of residents as to why this community should go out of its way to encourage the use of this coin, and incidentally, supply the reason for an additional issue. It is, however, very much in the interest of Kelowna and district to have more of these coins circulating. The silver mines of the Beavercreek district distribute nearly one hundred thousand dollars a year in dividends in this locality, and more may be looked for in years to come. The southern portion of British Columbia finds its chief mineral wealth in silver, and anything that can be done to increase the popularity of silver dollars will be of direct benefit to the silver industry of the province.

Critics have voiced the opinion that the silver dollar will be very unpopular, and that business people and customers will be annoyed at being asked to accept them in change. In answer to this, the case of one local merchant may be cited as a fair example. This merchant has given over fifteen hundred dollars of the silver issue in change since it was brought out, and to date has not met with a single case of dissatisfaction.

WAKE UP, BRITISH COLUMBIA!

(From Bulletin No. 9 of the Canadian National Parks Association)

Dad and Ma Jones, with the fullest approval of Billy and Dot Jones aged seventeen and fifteen respectively, decided to spend the summer touring in their new car. Many plans and preparations were made. Days passed very slowly, so impatient were they for school to close. At last the great day came when they bid their friends goodbye and their two months' vacation began. They travelled many miles over many roads, seeing many things from the windows of their car, but after going on and on day after day for many days they found their long anticipated trip becoming drearily monotonous, and Mrs. Jones, for one, wished fervently that she had not told the neighbours that she would "really have to be home in two months." If only she had said two weeks, how glad she would be to turn homeward again!

Even Dot was becoming depressed and pronounced the holiday a "flop," when a chance met tourist told them about the beauties and freshness of the Columbia Valley in B.C., and about the summer cottage which he had regrettably vacated there.

THE BOY SCOUTS

(Cranbrook Courier)

Canadian society must choose between the Boy Scout and the hoodlum. It costs only $500 a year to maintain a Boy Scout. It costs about $5,500 to apprehend and confine a juvenile delinquent. The Boy Scouts programme is a character-building programme. Character cannot be taught, but it can be caught. It is contagious under the associations in Scouting and under the direction which is making Scouting a great influence in the training of future Canadian citizens. Scouting has been a far-reaching factor for development of the finer traits of character, as opposed to baser influences.

Dad Jones wired at once for the cottage, and was overjoyed to secure it for a week. Then the trip again became interesting. Eagerly they motored northward. The first glimpse of their cottage filled them with delight. Nestling amongst the trees of a fruit farm in a south-westerly sloping valley, sheltered behind by towering tree-clad hills, their cottage had that honey look which won Ma's heart at once, while all were enthralled by the magnificent beauty of the scene from their front door. An old fashioned flower garden with lilac-bordered paths and flanked on either side by berry patches reached the motor highway. Just across the road were more berry patches to the border of a placid lake reflecting the beautiful snow-capped summits of the Selkirk Mountains. The air was mellowed by the soft murmur of falling water and the songs of many birds and delightfully perfumed by many wild flowers.

Billy spotted a boat on the lake shore and raced down with Dot to investigate. They found that it contained several roomy canoes, while camping equipment was piled on the shelves.

The front of the boat house was so arranged that the upper part of the wall would fold away, forming a table where one might lunch and enjoy the magnificent view across the lake. Dot and Billy desired, and desired very much, to have lunch in the boat house. That afternoon found Dad Jones asleep in the hammock and Ma Jones dozing over a magazine, while comfortably ensconced in a steamer chair. Dot and Billy, after a luxurious swim, were away in one of the canoes on an exploring expedition through the maze of lakes and channels which border the sluggishly flowing Columbia River on both sides for a hundred miles to southward. They came home with about two gallons of wild raspberries which, for want of a container, they had piled on a newspaper spread on the bottom of their canoe.

Ma's suggestion that their cottage be secured for the full possible remainder of their holiday met with unanimous approval. Then began the most wonderful holiday any of them had ever enjoyed: a holiday of paddles through long channels hidden by the foliage arching overhead, through openings leading to lilac-covered ponds or beautiful lakes, of picnics in deep shady canyons beside tumbling waterfalls, and always the sluggish river to float home upon in the evenings. As they became familiar with the various channels their trips became more extended, culminating in a glorious four-day expedition up through the lakes and side channels of the Columbia River to Lake Windermere, and then lazily drifting homeward down the river. Dad had never enjoyed such fishing in his life, while thrifty Ma wished to preserve and take back home some of the luscious wild fruit growing in such profusion that their landlord was accused of taking the wealth of the land to his home. The fruit when they went berry picking. As for Dot and Billy, towards the close of their school term they had been tired, pale and listless, and had little appetite for Ma's carefully prepared meals. All this was now changed—particularly their appetites; while all were surprised and delighted at the cool nights when they had such refreshing sleep as they had never before experienced, and had no more to imagine possible.

Dot and Billy were the first up and last to bed but found their days all too short for what they wanted to do. They secured photos of many wild animals and birds, made a magnificent collection of butterflies and moths, and identified over three hundred varieties of wild flowers. Their natural curiosity "to see what lies behind the hill" took them on many scrambles up the mountain sides, or along the trails to the numerous mining claims, while far below them as they climbed the extended panorama of river, lake and forest spread in ever enlarging area. On these expeditions they found many pieces of rock showing traces of mineral, and once found a large chunk of gold in cube formation and were sadly disappointed when they were told that their gold was only iron pyrites.

All too soon the very last day they dared remain to be sure of getting home for the first day of school. Tom Brown, their landlord, had told them about the winter scenery, and they arranged to return for a month at Christmas, when they were able to skate on many of their favourite canoeing channels, the arching foliage now covered with frost crystals glistening in the moonlight. The winter air seemed to have an invigorating quality of champagne and they never seemed to tire. When the snow came they could snowshoe along many of the mining and lumbering roads or strike across through the murmuring spruce trees and slide down the hillside to the ice-covered Columbia River. The sleigh rides up the snow-covered motor road in the evening when the jingling bells set them all singing made them wish their friends back home could be with them. They returned home thoroughly satisfied with the Columbia Valley. So enthusiastic were they about it that three of their neighbours decided to join them next year, and before long Tom Brown's cabins in the Columbia Valley became the custom with the holiday makers of the town in which the Jones' lived, many of the parties remaining four or five months, so that the summer cottages were occupied the entire year. The cabins were built, and Tom Brown's neighbours in the Valley soon became the regular hosts to many people living in districts subject to hot clammy nights in the summer when restful sleep is impossible.

The district became prosperous, and each farmer strove to make his summer and winter guests as comfortable as possible, finding his visitors a profitable market for practically all the produce of his fruit farm. No longer were the fruit ranchers worried over market quotations of butter, eggs, or poultry, nor were they particularly interested in the conditions of the prairie market for their fruit. They were able to board their summer visitors profitably at a price less than their cost of living at home. They were not called upon to provide expensive entertainment for their guests, as were the summer hotels; the climate and environment provided all the entertainment that the visitors could desire.

This idyll is based on an accurate description of the writer's own experience in the Columbia Valley twenty-five years ago. The fruit ranch actually existed, but of course the motor road and tourist cottages were what might have been, had the motor been in use at the time. The general description of the valley might apply to many places in interior British Columbia. A visit to this district a few weeks ago disclosed the lake, the mountains and the natural environment more beautiful, if possible, than ever; but the fruit ranch had the dreariness of utter desolation. The orchard was running wild, the garden and berry patches were choked with weeds, while the hedge was ruthlessly beautiful in front of the open door of the ruined and abandoned dwelling. This deplorable condition was caused simply because the once happy and hopeful owner, like many of his neighbours, found that his fruit crop could not be profitably marketed after the earlier crop of the coast had glutted the prairie market.

As the motoring summer visitor has brought prosperity to the Minnesota, so he can still bring prosperity and a thrifty population into many of the valleys of interior British Columbia, which are most bountifully endowed by nature with all that goes to make a holiday for those weary of the noise and rush of our present-day civilization; those who would find in the peaceful mountain valleys that rebuilding a nerve for which the drugs and lotions of the doctor are useless.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 29, 1906

"Mr. H. B. D. Lysons launched his ferry-boat on Monday and arrived here the 'Skookum.' The engine has been installed and the boat is nearly ready for service."

"At the close of a temperance mass meeting of citizens held in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening last, at which an address was given by Mrs. Spofford, organizer of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: That the meeting of citizens urges the City Council to vigorously enforce the law regarding the closing of the public bars on Sunday and preventing the sale of liquor after regulation hours."

"The telephone cable so long expected arrived last week, but will not be laid until the land connections have all been strung. It is wound on a large spool, weighs about nine tons and is of German manufacture. It is strange the Government did not patronize an English firm instead of a country which raises against us a prohibitive tariff. Most of the best submarine cable used by the cable companies is made in the north of England, and presumably at a reasonable price."

"There was quite an exciting time in town on Friday, First, Steward Leslie of the 'Aberdeen,' fell in the lake between the wharf and the boat, and was dragged out after a good ducking, but happily none the worse, and shortly afterwards the shack owned by Mr. Mark Ellis in the Park was seen to be on fire. The flames had got too much headway by the time the fire was observed to do anything to save either the cabin or contents. The loss of their entire batching outfit is a severe one to the two young men inhabiting the cabin, and they have our sympathy."

"A number of Mr. Frank Fraser's friends met him in the Club on Saturday evening and presented him with a handsome gold chain and locket as a keepsake on his departure for Alberta. Brief speeches were made by Messrs. D. W. Sutherland, as President, and the Club, J. H. Rose, and G. C. Rose, who made the presentation. Mr. Fraser replied, expressing his thanks and regret at leaving the valley, to which at some future date he might return. It is understood he may take up an agency for Okanagan fruit in Calgary during the coming season, and all will wish him success in the venture."

"A team of football players went down to Sumnerland on Friday, under the captaincy of Mr. G. A. McKay, to play off a match arranged with the players of that district. The team was a combination from Kelowna and the Bench, and consisted of Mappin, goal; Mallam and Bennett, backs; Pymann, Leigh and McKay, half-backs; and Hayman, Coleman, Wilkinson, Fleetwood and Burton, forwards. The match resulted in favour of Kelowna by 3 goals to 0 in spite of a vigorous and plucky game played by the Sumnerlanders, who were very much the lighter team."

"During the past two weeks the curlers have managed to snatch a few games from the advent of spring by playing early in the morning and late at night. A competition was played off for a beautiful medal presented by Mr. E. R. Bailey. The scores were: First Round: Bowes, 10; DuMoulin, 6; Benson, 10; Rowcliffe, 9; H. S. Rose, 14; Dr. Gaddes, 3; E. R. Bailey, 11; F. Fraser, 8; Second Round: Bailey, 15; Rose, 6; Bowes, 8; Benson, 3; Final: Bowes, 10; Bailey, 3. Mr. Bowes began curling last winter and his victory does him and his rink great credit, considering the formidable strength of his opponents. The losing team received, as consolation prizes, handsome sets of sleeve-links presented by Dr. Gaddes."

"A meeting was held in Raymer's Hall on Friday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Board of Trade for the valley. Mr. D. W. Sutherland was appointed chairman and Mr. G. C. Rose, secretary. The secretary read the requirements of the Dominion Act in regard to incorporation.

"Mayor Raymer moved that organization be proceeded with, pending matters for urgent consideration, amongst them the lowering of the lake. Mr. DuMoulin seconded, cordially endorsing the proposal, and stating freight rates and facilities, a canning factory and protection against misrepresentation by other places as questions requiring vigorous action. The motion was carried unanimously.

"Selection of a name caused a good deal of discussion, as it was felt Mission Valley should show in the title, but, after looking at all sides of the question, it was considered that there was only one short, descriptive name available, and it was resolved, on the motion of Messrs. DuMoulin and Raymer, to select 'Kelowna Board of Trade.'

"The district to be embraced was also a knotty problem, and it was finally resolved, on the motion of Messrs. Crowley and Sillingfleet, that definition of the district be left to the chairman and secretary, provided it shall include the west side of Okanagan Lake from Bear Creek to Gellatly.

"On the motion of Messrs. Crowley and Collins, the annual subscription was fixed at $2.50, subject to ratification by the Board after incorporation.

"Mr. G. C. Rose was appointed permanent secretary to complete organization, and was instructed to prepare the petition and obtain the thirty names required as soon as possible.

"The meeting then adjourned until completion of incorporation, when a general meeting will be held to elect officers and Council for the current year."

At a meeting in Benvoulin School-house on March 24th, called by the municipal incorporation committee for the purpose of raising expense funds, the original promoters failed to attend, and a largely hostile audience censured the committee, which resulted in their resignation and abandonment of further proceedings. Mr. W. D. Hobson was voted to the chair, Mr. Price Ellison declining the honour.

During a long and wearisome discussion, the whole matter pro and con of a municipality was re-opened. Messrs. M. Heron, I. Mawhinney, Sr., Philip Salvage, Patterson, R. H. Friedman, Conroy and Lytle took part in the debate. Mr. Hobson after repeated attempts to bring the meeting back to the original purpose for which it was summoned, finally succeeded in having a vote taken on the report presented by the committee on the work they had accomplished. On a division, their report was not approved, and the committee promptly resigned.

On request, Mr. Ellison stated his objections to the proposal, while Mr. Hobson traversed some of the arguments put forward by Mr. Ellison.

The report of the meeting concludes: "After two and a half hours of talk, the meeting broke up without anything being accomplished, and, as there is now no committee to carry on the work, apparently the project has been killed."

Odds And Ends

A Weekly Casserole by R.W.B.L.

THE FLAG

There was a great deal of consternation a short time ago when it was officially announced that the Union Jack of the various Empire services would no longer display the traditional scarlet, but rather a rust colour, as the original red is a very expensive dye. This colour does not sound very inspiring, but economy is the watchword in Britain now, so it will be "Three Cheers for the Rust, White and Blue" very shortly.

This change is not likely to prove popular with the vast majority of subjects in the Empire, nor with the men in His Majesty's services, who will bitterly resent any innovations in the flag.

A strange thing, the power that is represented in that multi-coloured piece of bunting, strange are the things for which it stands in the outposts of empire. It has whipped to ribbons in Arctic gales, provided the incentive to push on into desolate wastes, and to plant a flag where never flag went before. It has hung limp in tropic calms, in deserts, and in damp, fetid jungles. It has stood for home, beauty and loved ones to the empire builders of yesterday and today. Men have died for it with happy hearts, countless thousands have followed it at the constant risk of life and fortune.

It has remained for depression economists to create changes that countless armies and navies have failed to do. But red, rust, or any other colour, the Union Jack stands, as it always has done, for many of the things that are worth having and worth fighting for in this world of ours.

WOMEN

An editor of a well known women's magazine has come out with a statement that somehow or other strikes a false and jarring note. Says she, "Women like simple, direct statements."

So women like simple, direct statements, do they? Have you ever, in a simple, cold-blooded manner, informed the female of the species that she has too much colour on, that her nails are fourteen shades too crimson, or, most heinous of all, that her hat is unbecoming? You have not, or if, in a moment of misguided enthusiasm, you did, then you have long since learned your lesson.

Let us consider the question of argument in regard to this simple, direct statement theory. No mere male can convince a woman of anything unless he fails to do. But red, rust, or any other colour, the Union Jack stands, as it always has done, for many of the things that are worth having and worth fighting for in this world of ours.

SHADES OF JULES VERNE

Did recently hie me to the local playhouse, where upon the screen were showing Mistress Evans and Milord Dix in "Transatlantic Tunnel," and 'twas most nobly done. On leaving and wending my way to Master Harry's Coffee Stalle, did overhear divers persons talking about the impossibility of such a project, and did immediately bethink me of a scrap of paper upon my littered desk, coming from whence I know not, that does, most clearly, relate the sad story of one unfortunate Joshua Copper-smith, who was arrested in New York these many years gone by, and did receive summary justice, consisting of being thrown into goal, for attempting "to extort money from ignorant and superstitious persons by exhibiting a device, which he calls a telephone, which he states will convey the human voice over any distance of wires, a thing that well informed people know to be impossible of accomplishment, and of no value should it be done."

Methought also of tales reported from the East at the time of the construction of the C.P.R. when horrors of divers natures were told, in all good faith, of this, our province. And so musing, methought that perhaps some such scheme, should the need for it arise, might not be so impossible of construction as mine friends would have.

Whereupon, having reached mine destination, did therewith forget such worries in a saucer of coffee as only Master Chapin can brew.

course of training for N.C.O.'s."

"Messrs. J. E. Reckie and Geo. L. Allan, of the Kelowna district, have been appointed members of the Board of Directors of the Okanagan United Growers, at Vernon."

The Kelowna Volunteer Reserve held a re-organization meeting on March 27th, when new officers were elected to carry on the work of the corps. Eighty-seven votes were recorded for a number of candidates nominated for the various offices, the results being choice of Mayor J. W. Jones as President, Mr. R. E. Denison as Secretary, and Mr. W. M. Crawford as Officer Commanding.

On March 27th the number of names on the nominal roll of the 172nd Battalion passed the thousand mark, and it was predicted that within a few days the unit would be up to its full strength of 1,150 officers and men. Recent recruiting meetings held throughout the district had been responsible for a rapid increase in enlistments.

"Motor licences issued so far this year at the Provincial Police office, Kelowna, show a great increase as compared with the same period of 1925, the number for the first quarter of 1926 being approximately 735 as against 530 last year."

"At the morning service at the United Church on Sunday, the minister, Rev. A. MacLurg, announced his resignation and informed the congregation that he would be leaving for Ireland about the end of April. Mr. MacLurg is obliged to go home to Ireland on account of the illness of a sister, whom Mrs. MacLurg has been nursing during the past winter and for whom medical men state there is little chance of recovery. On reaching the Old Country, the reverend gentleman will supply at the summer church at Limavady, County Derry, his native town."

"Good progress is being made with the construction of the summer hotel which Countess Bubna is erecting a short distance from the wharf at Okanagan Mission. The general style of its architecture is what is known as 'Old English, half-timbered' and the balance of the walls having a pleasing rough plaster over metal lath, a style not much in vogue in the Interior as yet."

At a meeting of prospective tobacco growers, held under the auspices of the Board of Trade on March 30th, it was decided to accept the terms for the purchase of crop offered by Mr. O. R. Brenner, of the Van Loo Cigar Co., of Vancouver. A list taken of the likely area to be planted during the coming season showed a total of forty-two acres.

POINTS OF VIEW

SCHOOL CHILDREN AND COMMUNISM

(Victoria Colonist)

Attorney-General Sloan has told the Legislature that Communists are carrying on an intensive campaign among school children in some parts of British Columbia, and Mr. George Murray (Lillooet) says that the school teachers in many districts are participating in radical movements and political activity generally. The Attorney-General would, of course, not have made a statement of this character unless it were true. Moreover, he says that children are being taught the principles of Communism and to shun the Internationale, and meetings are held in some schoolrooms of the Province. It is quite obvious that the schools of the Province should not be used for revolutionary propaganda. It is, moreover, a fact that, if what Mr. Murray says about school teachers engaging in political activity, into which the children are drawn, is correct, then there should be a thorough public investigation of the whole matter.

Theonus of seeing that nothing is taught in the schools beyond what is found in the curriculum rests upon the Department of Education of the Provincial Government. That same Department has an undoubted responsibility, not only in the character of the teachers who are employed, but also as to the purposes for which schoolrooms may be used. If that Department has reason to believe that Communism is being taught in British Columbia, and if any of the facilities of public education are being used for that purpose, it should intervene, or otherwise it lays itself open to the accusation of giving tacit consent to the practice. Now that the charges have been made in the Legislature, and by the Attorney-General, there is an obligation resting on that Legislature to insist that the Department of Education should act. Judging from the manner in which the matter was brought up by Attorney-General Sloan, he expects that the Legislature will support his Department in countering prospects of revolutionary thought. The real responsibility, however, rests with the Department of Education, which should act promptly. That is the authority which should make impossible in the future such complaints as have been made by the Attorney-General.

"HARD" ROAD SURFACING

(Enderby Commoner)

Before much road surfacing is resumed this season, it would be a splendid idea if the Hon. Minister of Public Works would have a law passed compelling all traffic horses to wear foot pads to prevent lifting of the mulch surfacing on their shoes. Pedestrians using the gravelled roads also should have to use footpads for the same reason.

Surely a man would have to be of unbalanced mind who would casually look the hardsurfacing porous roads over and disregard the obvious results of what is actually happening.

Anyone who believes a two-inch porous oil-and-sand mulch spread on dust-surfaced highways, can be made to stand up under today's motor traffic should be examined by a sanity commission.

Whether the mulch is spread by day, labour, by the Department of Works, or by contract, the narrow strip of mulch cannot keep the sides of the highway dry. Water seeps under the surfacing, puddles the dust and freezes; then the frost heaves the light surfacing and when the ice thaws the mulch drops into the hole and—there you are.

The people of the six miles of surfacing done here came through the winter mildly better than the ordinary dirt road, but other portions of the road not so well drained, went to pieces as badly as any dirt road.

The surface patching of the past week or two has put the highway in fairly good condition, where there is less moisture from the snow.

Salmon Arm, it is said, where the highway was gravelled and oiled, the results have been more satisfactory. With this surfacing, the roadway can be graded regularly and the highway re-oiled when necessary to lay the dust.

Ask the man who drives.

and all generations seem to have been afflicted with them. In illustration of this, may we quote a French gentleman by the name of Callieres. M. Callieres, who lived in the seventeenth century, took his pen in hand, and enumerated, with considerable skill and decisiveness, his pet bores. Here they are:

The people who do not think for themselves, but whose entire talents are limited to knowing what other people have said.

The funny people who laugh at their own jokes, who promise they are going to make you laugh heartily, and who never keep their promise.

The scandal mongers, who, like the poor, are always with us.

The middlemost busybodies, who just can't mind their own business.

The tellers of tall tales of adventure, the people who tell you things in confidence, and who know all the state secrets, also never being right.

The pessimists.

The people who, with little knowledge, will insist on discussing state affairs. (Shades of Ethiopia!) And last, but not least, the people who will insist on discussing their private affairs, to the embarrassment of their listeners.

VANCOUVER VIGNETTE

How many of you "know" the corner of Granville and Georgia streets in Vancouver? How many of you have stood under Birks' clock about five o'clock in the afternoon and watched the people hurrying past. Come with me for a moment or two, and we will stand there together and watch the constantly changing stream of life that surges past and around this corner. Stand in close to the building here, out of the wind, and watch.

Look, see that old woman selling papers? Her ragged sweater and heavy skirt have braved the winds on this corner for many years. Her cracked voice has risen above the din of the streets to advertise her wares of two grades of newspapers, "Sun, Province" has been her cry. She has her regular clientele, and rumour has it that she has a great deal more money than most of the people who buy her wares.

It is the hour when the afternoon shows are disgorging their crowds, and the sidewalks are crowded with smiling, chattering play-goers, who are coming from the Orpheum, Capitol, or the Strand, just around the corner. They are catching the street car home, or going into Scott's or Purdy's for a cup of tea, or early supper. This is the hour for panhandlers, and the song of "Mister, could you spare a dime?" is sung to many a tune along this stretch of pavement.

Just across the street is the big, white Hudson's Bay Company's store. It is ablaze with light. People are hurrying through the big doors to get their last minute shopping done. The girl in the Arcade tobacco shop is doing a rush business. Some of her customers are prosperous business men, asking for imported cigarettes, some of them are seedy, down-at-the-heels unemployed, who want "the makings." Still others are girls from private schools, or just down town from Prince of Wales, or Magee, getting a small package of Turettis. They will sneak a smoke up in Purdy's lounge before their tea.

On the corner, there is a little man with a big basket selling fruit, tobacco and candies. He was unemployed, and rather than go on for relief, he took this

Kelowna Gets Another Interior Championship

WRESTLING BOUTS SHOW FANS SOME NEW TRICKS

Max Oakes Uses Spectacular Throw In "Irish Whip"—Ennis And Williams Draw

The Kelowna Physical Culture Club staged a very successful card on Saturday night in the Scout Hall, and although there was not a very large crowd owing to the weather, those that did attend got their money's worth.

In the opener Irvie Noble and Bus Jennens wrestled three rounds, with Bus taking the decision after some really tough work. Rudy Burscher and Sam Hunt went to a four round draw that certainly had the fans in a fever heat. The roughest match of the evening brought together two of the larger boys in the persons of Rudy Brunette and the Russian Count Johnny Veregin. They went five rounds and about the beginning of the fourth something aroused the Count and he hung one on Rudy which likewise aroused him, and an old fashioned slug fest resulted, with referee Chuck Thomas keeping far enough away from the two to assure that he wouldn't catch a stray foot or fist in the mix-up. Rudy took the extra fall but not until he found out that he had been in a wrestling match, as he packs several souvenirs where all may see. Both men moved surprisingly fast for big men.

In the semi-windup Max Oakes brought the "Irish Whip" to Kelowna rings for the first time, and it is certainly a spectacular throw. However, owing to his long absence from the ring, he did not have the fine edge that Sanger had trained to, and Sanger took the deciding fall. His first fall he took with a bar arm and body press, and the second with a reverse double wing lock. Both these boys are developing into fine, fast wrestlers, and will be seen on future cards here.

The main event was the best seen in Kelowna to date. Both Ennis and Williams started out cautiously, not wanting to give the other an opening. As they warmed up, however, caution was thrown to the winds. The excellent condition of both was remarked upon. They were both stepping along at a fast pace in the fourth round, when out of nowhere, apparently, Williams came up with the prettiest Indian deathlock one could wish to see. Ted conceded the fall in order to save himself punishment.

When the fight came out for the next round, Williams cinched down a head scissors and it appeared to the crowd as though he was bitten. At any rate, he went berserk and for the first time cut loose with flying fists, elbows and feet to smother Ted completely. Ennis landed eventually outside the ring on the hard floor. Ted weathered the storm and came back in the seventh to take the tieing fall with a series of jumping headlocks, an airplane spin and slam. These jumping headlocks are very pretty to watch and were very well executed. The last round saw both boys going all out for the winning fall. Williams obtained a Japanese puzzle leg lock on Ted, and it looked as though Ennis would have to quit. He got out of it in one minute and thirty seconds and obtained a very vicious arm stretch on Ed, who went for the ropes. On returning to the ring, Williams very cleverly got Ennis into another puzzle leg lock and Ted stayed with it until the gong went ending the round and match all even. Something new occurred in local rings when the fans gave Ennis quite a cheer for his grit in sticking with the hold to get a draw. Both these boys are a credit to their club in condition and skill and can always be counted upon to be in there all the time working their best.

The Battle Royal, needless to say, was enjoyed by all. There were enough pachyderms in the ring to shake the house and that is what they did. Don Martin, the smallest wrestler in the ring, came up winner, to the delight of all. While the Committee will not be able to stage a Battle Royal

Senior C Basketball Team Wins Title By Defeating Oliver In Fast Game

During the past week, another Interior championship has come to the Orchard City. This time it is the local Senior C team that has brought the laurels to Kelowna. The C's won the right to enter the final against Oliver by defeating Armstrong in the semi-finals.

This final game was played at Oliver on Friday evening last and was a sudden death affair, the winner being named the Interior champions for this season and holders of the Vancouver Daily Province Trophy, emblematic of the championship.

The Kelowna team won a hard and fast game by the score of 22-17, but only after they had put every ounce of strength into the play that they could. The game started very fast, with the Kelowna men sinking six points in the first two minutes to more or less catch their opponents off guard. From the outset Kelowna never lost the lead, and at the half-way mark were ahead by four points, although at one time in the final period Oliver came within two points of their visitors.

All the Kelowna men played a fine game, as did the Oliver team, but the visitors had a little too much experience for their opposition and were able to win the game by five points.

Art Reed, that fast youth from Glenmore, was the high scorer of the game with eight markers to his credit. He was followed by Harry Lyons with six. Oliver's high man was Arnold Cherry, who is a former Kelowna player and played with the present local Senior C team several seasons ago. He gathered six points, while Richmond counted four.

Kelowna won their title by their defence play, the zone defence almost working to perfection for the boys at the Oliver hall. Daynard and Boyer turned in remarkable games on the guard line, while Snowsall, another Glenmore player, played his usual fine game at centre.

This is the third time in as many seasons that the locals have won the championship, and the third time that they have met and defeated Oliver in the finals. Good work, C's, and hearty congratulations!

On the return of the team, they were high in their praise of the fine hospitality that was showered upon them by the Oliver citizens.

The hall was full for the game, they had the largest crowd they ever had to turn out for a basketball game in Oliver and some of the fans were hanging from the rafters. Oliver's a coming basketball town, just watch it!

Teams and scores:
KELOWNA: Daynard; Verity, 2; Boyer, 2; Snowsall, 4; Reed, 8; Morgan; Lyons, 6; Loudoun. Total, 22.
OLIVER: Smithers; Foster, 2; Norton, 3; Richmond, 4; Guidi, E. Norton; Ledger, 2; Cherry, 6. Total, 17.

One More Chance For A Provincial Title

And now, fans, comes the final in their next card, this type of bout will undoubtedly be with us again. The next match will be on April 18th and will introduce a double main event, constituting two men from Kamloops and two local men. A special feature of this match will be a mixed bout in which a wrestler will meet a boxer. This type of bout has been asked for many times and so will be presented.

The Kelowna Physical Culture Club is a self-supporting athletic organization and deserves the support of all interested in developing young athletes. Besides wrestling, the club takes part in running, boxing, will have several of its members in the Rowing Club and is going to enter a team in the City Softball League. Only lack of finances and space prevents this organization from branching out into other types of gymnasium work. However, the only way the Club could obtain finances was to stage wrestling matches and that is the reason the public only know them as a wrestling club. The members hope that this mistaken idea will be corrected and the support given that an Athletic Club of this type deserves.

The "Sea Cadet Fortnight" starts off with a movie, the proceeds of which will go to the Corps. Then during the same week, a box social will be held. I believe, in the Orange Hall. Finally, the official opening will be held on April 28th. This opening parade is to be open to the public, so all cadets please invite parents and friends. (Received too late for last week's issue)

The ladies of the congregation of the United Church entertained at the home of Mrs. Hare on Thursday last, at the tea hour, in honour of Mrs. Tench. Mrs. Fallow poured while Mrs. and Miss Carter assisted Mrs. Hare in serving. Decorations were carried out in spring flowers and pussy-willows.

windup for the season, at least so far as Kelowna is concerned. This Saturday April 4th, the local Scout team, which won the Interior Championship by defeating Princeton a couple of weeks ago, will make a determined bid for the only provincial title that can possibly come to the Orchard City.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Scout Juniors are bringing in the Coast finalists, Ryerson Church of Vancouver, for a sudden death game for the B.C. title.

This Scout team are well worth the fans support in trying their best to bring a provincial title to this city. They have worked hard all year and have trained very faithfully under the capable coaching of Harold Pettman, of the Famous Players team. They should be able to win out, and it is up to the local fans who have supported the other local teams to

YEAR'S FILM MASTERPIECE
HERE FOR FOUR DAYS
"Mutiny On The Bounty" To Be Presented April 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th
"Anything Goes," the Broadway musical success, is brought to the local screen on Friday and Saturday, April 3rd and 4th, starring Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman, Charlie Ruggles and Ida Lupino. The screen version of this hit show contains all the sparkling happy comedy and catchy tunes that put this show over on the "Great White Way."
"Charlie Chan's Secret"
Fighting the coils of a sinister murdering ring, Charlie Chan, famous Oriental slouth, returns to the screen in the well known person of Warner Oland, to provide some of the best entertainment of his career in "Charlie Chan's Secret" which plays at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, April 6th and 7th. Unmasking spiritualist fakers and giving a helping hand to troubled romance, Charlie finds in this picture one of the best vehicles he has had,
and makes the fullest possible use of it.
On the same bill is a rapid fire song dance and comedy with a heart tug,
"Paddy O'Day", featuring Jane Withers, sensational young actress, who stars as a bundle of fun, direct from Ireland, to bring one of the most appealing pictures of the year. The fascinating adventures of this cunning Irish lass in Manhattan will long be remembered.
"Mutiny On The Bounty"
For four days Kelowna audiences will have the opportunity that they have waited for so long, that of seeing the year's film masterpiece, "Mutiny On The Bounty", which will play at the Kelowna theatre April 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th. Starring Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Franchot Tone, this truly fine picture, of one of the greatest annals of marine history, presents entertainment that no one can afford to miss.
The tale of the fate of the officers and crew of His Majesty's ship Bounty, immortalized in story, has been faithfully reproduced on the screen, and this saga of the days of "iron men and wooden ships" will remain
one of the finest pictures of all time, ranking with "Ben Hur", "Cimarron"
and "Lives of a Bengal Lancer".

Mrs. Bruce Brown, of Penticton, with her small daughter, has been a guest of Mrs. George Meikle this past week. Several teas have been given in her honour, among them one on Thursday afternoon, March 26th, at which Mrs. P. Dellart was hostess.

Mrs. E. M. Dow, of Enderby, is the guest of Mrs. Fred Day.
Mrs. Miller is at present staying with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Adams.

Mrs. P. Blackey celebrated her birthday, Tuesday March 31st, and was the recipient of a host of good wishes from her many friends in Kelowna.

Friends of Miss Zoe Browne-Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D.
Browne-Clayton, of Okanagan Mission, will be pleased to learn that she has been appointed editor-in-chief of the "Okanagan" student publication, for the 1936-37 sessions of the University of B. C.

The girls of the Basketball Club entertained at a private dance Thursday evening, March 26th, at the Orange Hall. A short programme was arranged for the entertainment of the guests, during which Const. C. Thomas presented two humorous dialogues and little Miss Morag MacDonald gave a tap dance. The Misses Janet Craig and Barbara Meikle sang two delightful songs and "Tiny" Walrod pleased the company with an original song and a French air. Messrs. J.
Cross and C. Dunaway supplied the music, to which the guests danced till a late hour. A buffet supper was served.

Miss Jean Rowcliffe entertained at four tables of bridge, Friday evening, March 27th.
The younger set have opened the spring and summer season with a series of social gaiety this past week.
The Publications Board of the Kelowna Senior High School Annual arranged a banquet for the visiting Valley High School teams at the United Church Hall, Saturday evening, March 28th, following the afternoon's games.
Bob Hayman acted as Master of Ceremonies. The Principal, Mr. A. A.
Chapman, welcomed the guests in a short address and the captains of the winning teams were prevailed upon to say a few words. After the banquet, all adjourned to the Junior High School Gymnasium, to spend the remainder of the evening dancing to the strain of Bob Hayman's Ambasadors. Dancing continued until midnight.

Miss Jean Harvey made a delightful tea hostess, Thursday afternoon, March 26th, on the occasion of her twenty-first birthday. Her guest of honour was Miss Marjorie Pearcey, whose twenty-first birthday coincided.
Green and yellow decorations lent a note of spring, while flanked by yellow tapered, three-tiered birthday cake occupied the centre of the tea table.

SYSTEMS FOR ARTIFICIAL BROODING OF CHICKS
Colony House Plan Has Proved Most Suitable For Canadian Conditions
In the artificial brooding of chicks,
there are a number of systems in successful use, such as the hot water pipe system, the forced draft hot air system, the battery system and the colony house plan. Of these, under general Canadian conditions for the comparatively smaller grower, the last-named system has proven most satisfactory.
For a source of heat, the coal burning brooder stove is by long odds the most popular, although for brooding in the late spring and summer, oil or electricity has many advantages.
The brooder stove is best used in a portable colony house which may be moved from time to time throughout the season to assure the chicks having fresh, uncontaminated ground, over which to range. Don't overcrowd. A 10 x 12 house will accommodate 200 to 300 chicks nicely at the start. Be sure to supply sufficient heat at all times to ensure the comfort of the chicks.
They should be kept as cool as may be for comfort but should always have a source of heat where they may go to rest in a temperature of about 100 degrees.
No thermometer is as good an indicator as the chicks themselves. Their actions will tell at once whether they are comfortable or not. When the chicks rest contentedly in a circle just outside the canopy of the stove, you may know that the temperature is right. If they are not warm enough, they will quickly tell you by their discontented chirping and their crowding to the source of heat. If hot they will get as far from the stove as possible or go around with their beaks open panting for breath.
It is better to err on the side of too much heat rather than too little, particularly in the early season.
When the chicks are first put in the brooder, use a fine mesh guard to circle the hover a couple of feet from the edge. When they become used to the source of heat, the circle is enlarged and finally removed giving them the run of the entire house.
Ventilate freely but avoid draughts.
For further information, write to the Department of Agriculture or to your nearest Experimental Farm for Circular
No. 76, "The Brooding and Rearing of Chicks."

TO ENSURE CONTINUANCE OF B.C.F.G.A.

Auditor
The firm of R. G. Rutherford & Company advised their acceptance of the post of auditor for the books of the Association.

Poor Condition of Exported McIntosh
Considerable discussion took place
as to the reason why McIntosh Reds, on arrival on the Old Country markets, were found to be in poor condition. A suggestion was read from Mr. J. R. Kinghorn, which called for the labelling of the boxes in the way they should be piled, namely, on the side, so as to avoid injury through boxes being packed with the pressure on the bulge.

In regard to the change in labelling,
however, it appeared to be the general feeling of the meeting that such a step would be of little practical value, inasmuch as the label was seldom, if ever, noted. Mr. Hembling was of the opinion that any damage that the fruit sustains is not received on this side of the Atlantic, as the whole handling of the fruit was most carefully supervised.
It was decided, however, to refer
Mr. Kinghorn's suggestion to the Grades Committee for further consideration.
Cherries Available For Processing
A letter requesting information as to the amount of cherries available in this province for processing was received from Mr. W. H. Morris, of Pentiction.
It was pointed out by Mr. Hembling that, now that the black cherries had been found suitable for processing, the entire crop of this province was available, if necessary, for that branch of industry.

Captain H. A. Porteous and Mr. G.
E. Brown, of the Tree Fruit Board office, were appointed, as required by a resolution passed at the convention, to a committee to investigate the possibilities for the entire Dominion. This committee was given power to add to its number, if it finds it necessary.
Taxes Cannot Be Worked Out
A communication has been received by the Association from the government stating that there are not, at the present time, funds available to permit fruit growers in arrears with their taxes to work off a portion, or all of them, on road work or otherwise.

Publicity
It was decided to provide the press with items of interest whenever such are available, and to make a determined effort, through the press and through the official organ of the Association, Country Life in British Columbia, to educate the growers and all interested as to conditions in the Okanagan and as to the fruit industry as a whole.
A suggestion that the President of the Association go on the air over the local radio station, CKOV, with messages to the growers was discussed, and it was decided that courses of action could be followed when messages of real importance were available.

Thanks To Uniform Contract
Committee
A vote of thanks from the Directors to the members of the Uniform Contract Committee, for the work done in this connection, was passed by the meeting.

Proposal To Obtain List of Prices
Paid Growers Is Dropped
After considerable discussion, it was decided not to request the submission of lists of prices paid to growers by shippers, because of the difficulty of getting a list of prices that could be said to reflect the entire picture, this proposal was filed.

PLACING OF UNEMPLOYED
ON FARMS IS ADVOCATED
Proposal That Dominion Pay Men
$1.10 Per Day
OTTAWA, April 2.—The placing of all unemployed on farms, with the government paying them $1.10 per day, was advocated in the House of Commons yesterday by Mr. T. V.
Grant, Liberal, Kings County, New Brunswick. He proposed that the farmers could supply food and clothing in return for the services.

for many years has acted efficiently as Observer at Kelowna for the Met-

CENTENNIAL OF CANADA'S FIRST RAILWAY LINE

Opening Of Chamberlain And St. Lawrence Railway To Be Commemorated July 21st

On July 21st of this year there will be celebrated a centennial event of great significance, the opening of Canada's first steam railway. Comprising fourteen and a half miles of line south of the St. Lawrence River, almost opposite Montreal, the Champlain and St. Lawrence railway was built from Laprairie to St. Johns, Que., to super-seed the stage route between these two points. It was the first link in the chain of railways that developed into the Canadian National System.

Freight and passenger service south of St. Johns was then operated by boat down the Richelieu River to points on Lake Champlain, and thence down the Hudson River to New York. It is interesting to note in regard to transportation that even in those early days a great deal of it was international in character, there being much traffic, both passenger and freight, from Montreal by ferry across the St. Lawrence River to Laprairie, then by overland transit to St. Johns, and thence by water to points across the international border. Three ferries were operated across the St. Lawrence River in that early period: between Montreal and St. Lambert; between Montreal and Longueuil; between Lachine and Caughnawaga. In winter all transport was by sleigh over the ice.

This present railway route of 1836 soon provided the impetus for further rail construction in several directions. After a few years of operation, it was decided to lengthen the line and rails were extended in 1851 north to St. Lambert (directly across the river from Montreal) in one direction, and south to Rouens Point on Lake Champlain in the other. In 1847 a line known as the St. Lawrence and Atlantic was built from Longueuil, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence nearly opposite Montreal, eastward to St. Hyacinthe and by 1851 it had reached Richmond, then on to Sherbrooke, Que., in 1852, and by the following year it was extended to Island Pond, Vermont. Here it connected with the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad built between Island Pond and Portland, Maine, completed in 1853, this line connecting with the Boston and Maine Railroad. By 1847 the Montreal and Lachine line also was completed and the extension from Caughnawaga, opposite Lachine, to Moers Junction, N.Y., was opened in 1852, known as the Lake St. Louis and Province Line Railroad. This line, by using a railroad ferry across the St. Lawrence River, made a connection between Montreal and the United States railroads to the south. This enlarged line, which extended to Island Pond, Vermont, was absorbed by the York Railroad, was absorbed by the pioneer Champlain and St. Lawrence, or rather by the Montreal and Champlain, as it was later known.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada came on the scene by incorporation in 1852, the original aim of this company being to form a railway connection between the ports of Quebec, Montreal and the Great Lakes. Lines were constructed from these important points in Quebec westward through the province of Ontario to Sarnia at the international border, with branches, built and acquired, afterward radiating in all directions. By 1873 the Grand Trunk had absorbed all the railway lines included in the earlier period, and by building, centring around Montreal and points to the south and east, including the first railway and adjacent lines, the Grand Trunk Railway was, in turn, absorbed on January 30, 1923, by the Canadian National Railways, which thereby inherited these pioneer lines. It is worthy of note that part of the original line of the Montreal and St. Lawrence Railroad, the progenitor of the Canadian National System, still exists as a right-of-way, forming a tiny part of the 24,000 miles of line now used by the Canadian National Railways.

From the acorn grows the oak, a mighty tree which spreads its branches in all directions. From the puny stock in Canada in 1835 are estimated at the earlier period, the building of railroad buildings has grown a mighty transportation system, spreading its lines across the Dominion to all important centres and beyond to vast colonization areas. When the first railway was laid down in Canada in 1836 the vision of neither statesmen nor railway builders had envisaged the linking of the two oceans.

The figures 1836-1936 are simply dates but what a wealth of significance they contain historically in the development of Canada in its many aspects, but especially in the advance of transportation facilities, without which that development would have been impossible. A review of this period, with its dramatic moves on the chess-board of railway building, reveals the fact that one hundred years have marched by since the inaugural run of the Champlain and St. Lawrence Railroad on July 21, 1836, from Laprairie to St. Johns, Que. For this occasion and later use, the tiny "Dorchester" locomotive, built by Stephenson of Liverpool, England, was brought across the Atlantic, hauling the carriage-like coaches on the first section of the train which conveyed many of the three hundred passengers who attended the momentous event of the opening ceremony.

The average values per head of live stock in Canada in 1935 are estimated as follows: (with the 1934 values in brackets): horses $65 ($57); milch cows, $35 ($29); other cattle, $22 ($17); sheep $502 ($418); swine $11.77 ($9.86). The average value of unwashed wool per pound is estimated at 12 cents as compared with 10 cents in 1934.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO POPULARIZE APPRENTICESHIP

Board Of Trade Solicited To Aid In Local Application Of Recent Measure

The Kelowna Board of Trade has received a communication from the Apprenticeship Branch of the Department of Labour, asking for its co-operation in making the Apprenticeship Act effective in this district.

A complete set of conditions and wage scales covering the various trades, as drawn up by the Government, has been forwarded, and it is explained that, while these are generally applicable throughout the province, variations or additions may be made where local conditions justify it.

The age limit for starting ranges from sixteen to twenty-one. It is felt that a return to the system of apprenticeship, modernized to suit present day conditions, will develop a local supply of efficient, trained men, and will produce a more satisfied and loyal type of employee, at the same time secure a sound, settled programme for several years at a boy's most impressionable age, give him steady employment for a period long enough to learn his trade, and provide him with a reasonable wage during his training period.

At the present time the Apprenticeship Act covers the following trades, namely: Carpentry, painting and decorating, plastering, sheet metal work, plumbing and steamfitting, electrical work and automobile maintenance. The Board has, at present, a number of other occupational groups requesting to come under the Act, including the following: butchers, bakers, dry-cleaners and dyers, barbers and druggists.

The Act is now working smoothly in Vancouver, according to report, and has been accorded the assistance and co-operation of the Vancouver Board of Trade and its various committees, the Building and Construction Industries Exchange and other organizations of employers, the Trades and Labour Council and other organizations of workers. Service Club committees, etc.

One of the most important results, which it is felt will be achieved by such a system of apprenticeship will be the elimination of the half-trained mechanic, who does inferior work, cuts prices and generally lowers the standards of his trade.

Through a system of this kind, it is felt that considerable benefit will accrue to both employer and employee through the establishment of special trade classes for apprentices, with periodical examinations. Observance will be made of the boy's progress to see that he is both receiving, and taking advantage of, the opportunity to learn the trade properly. An inquiry will be made, in regard to any cause for disagreement or dissatisfaction on the part of either apprentice or employer.

The general regulations covering apprenticeship are as follows: obligations of the apprentice during the period of apprenticeship:

(a) To render diligent service to his employer, and to avoid damage of waste of equipment or goods.

(b) To attend regularly his place of employment and in addition to make himself proficient by attending such classes in trade training and related subjects as may be required of him, and, generally, to be subject to and obey all regulations made by the Provincial Apprenticeship Committee governing his apprenticeship.

(c) To notify immediately the Inspector of Apprenticeship of any difficulty that may occur to interfere with the carrying out of the terms of the Apprenticeship contract.

The obligations of the employer to the apprentice are:

(a) To provide adequate training of an apprentice in all branches of the trade insofar as his facilities and the character of his work will permit.

(b) To pay wages not less than on the scale set out in the Apprenticeship contract, and to keep the apprentice employed so long as work is available.

(c) To abide by and carry out the regulations governing apprenticeship made by the Provincial Apprenticeship Committee and to facilitate the apprentice doing likewise.

(d) To notify immediately the Inspector of Apprenticeship when employing a minor in any designated trade and advise him of any difficulty that may occur to interfere with the carrying out of the terms of an apprenticeship contract.

In the apprenticeship contracts it is set out that should either party have the opinion that the rates of wages are unfair, then this party may apply to the Inspector of Apprenticeship for a revision. It is stated that the hours for work shall be the same as for a journeyman, and that an apprentice working overtime shall be paid additional remuneration.

The wage scales that have been prepared for the various trades covered range from $4.50 to $5.50 per week of 44 hours for the first six months of the term, which is usually four years. This wage scale increases approximately $1 per week each six months, so that during the last six months, the apprentice's earnings will be between $13 and $15 per week.

In regard to the termination of the contract, it has been provided that, subject to the approval of the Minister, a contract may be terminated by mutual agreement of all parties, or may be cancelled by the Inspector, if he is shown good cause by either the employer, the apprentice or the guardian.

A considerable amount of printed matter and sample contract forms may be examined by those interested at the Kelowna Board of Trade offices.

WHEN PUT BACK IN WATER HOOKED TROUT REVIVE

Injuries To Gills Not Fatal If Small Fish Are Promptly Returned To Water

Small trout which have been injured about the gills by the angler's hook will soon recover, in many cases at least, if they are promptly freed and put back into the water.

That statement may be contrary to a belief which is perhaps quite widely held, but tests made by a Canadian investigator have indicated that it is true, and sportsmen who happen to land small trout when fishing for the big fellows should make it a point to get them back into the water at once so that they may have a chance to recover and mature and help to ensure good sport for anglers later on.

In some cases, of course, the fisheries regulations provide that trout under certain sizes must be returned to the stream or lake but, regulations aside, it is good sportsmanship to put the small fish back in the water so that they may help to maintain the angling resources.

The investigation as to the effect of hook injuries on small brook trout was carried out last year under the Biological Board of Canada, which is the federal fisheries research body and operates under the control of the Minister of Fisheries. A number of trout with hook injuries in their gills—several gill arches—were under observation in the tests, being placed in a trough where they could easily be watched. Their injuries made them sluggish and, to quote from the report of the investigator, they "did not respond readily to tactile stimuli for several hours," but after twenty-four hours most of them seemed quite normal again. Only a small percentage—less than ten per cent—failed to survive, and, to quote again from the report, "the experiment indicates that a high percentage of hooked trout which are injured, even to the extent of severing a gill arch, may be expected to live if returned to the water when released from the hook."

ANNUAL FAT STOCK SHOW AND BULL SALE AT KAMLOOPS

Record Number Of Animals On Display But Lower Prices
Realized Than Last Year

The eighteenth annual Fat Stock Show and Bull Sale was held at Kamloops on March 23rd and 24th, when a record number of animals was shown but prices realized were lower than last year, although well above present market quotations.

The Kelowna district was well represented by the Okanagan Loan and Investment Trust Co. and the Eldorado Ranch.

In the Carlots class, out of thirteen entries the Western Canadian Ranching Co. was placed first, Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Co. second, and Eldorado Ranch, fifth.

There were twenty-nine entries in the Groups of Five class, in which first place was taken by C. R. Green, of Westwood, with Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Co. sixth. In the individual classes, the Grand Champion steer, owned by Murray Turner, of Cadboro Bay, was bought by Woodward's Ltd. for 16½ cents per pound.

There was exceptionally keen competition in the singles class of 1,051 lbs. and over, which was won by Charles Frolek, of Kamloops, the winning animal being purchased by Fred Gaven, of Vernon, for 16 cents per pound.

Alex. Frolek, of Kamloops, took first place in the boys' and girls' classes, his steer being bought by Woodward's Ltd. at 13 cents per pound.

The bidding was well supported by Swift Canadian Co., who bought seven out of twelve carload lots, fifteen lots out of the Groups of Five class and forty-five lots in the singles and boys' and girls' classes.

In the breeding classes the Grand Champion Shorthorn, "Royal Leader", owned by James Turner, was not sold, as the reserve price was not reached. The B. C. Champion bull, "Marshall's Best", was also owned by Mr. Turner.

In the Hereford class, first prize was awarded to C. Turner, of Westwood. This bull was not sold, as it failed to reach the reserve price. The second prize-winner, "Rock Creek Domino, 29th", the highest priced bull of the sale, owned by J. A. McEachern, of Alberta, was purchased by the Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Co. The third prize-winner, "Beau Laddie 14th", owned by J. H. McCallan, of Armstrong, was purchased by Mr. McNair, of the Eldorado Ranch.

The sale was conducted by Mr. Mat Hassen, of Armstrong, who was ably supported by Mr. W. Durno, of Calgary.

In spite of the lower prices, it was a very successful sale and the exhibitors were well satisfied.

EAST KELOWNA

Mrs. Wilson and Mr. R. Wilson have returned after an extended visit to the Coast.

Mrs. Rogers is reported as making very satisfactory progress following a serious operation performed in Kelowna General Hospital last week.

Mr. S. Gregory had the misfortune to fall from a tree about a week ago, and when infection set in in a gash received in his leg by the fall, he was confined to the Hospital for several days. He has since returned home, but at time of writing, has not recovered sufficiently to admit of return to his work.

On Wednesday, March 25th, the Badminton Club of Rutland was entertained by a "B" team representing the local club in the last match of the season. A very pleasant match was enjoyed, with Rutland coming out on the long end of a 14-10 score. The Kelowna team consisted of Misses J. Pooley, M. Allport, L. Marshall, K. Blackburne, and Messrs. J. Blackburne, G. Olson, A. Stewart and A. Ward. On Saturday last, C. Poole was crowned singles champion in a handicap tournament among the male members of the local club. The ladies' singles competition, played on Monday night, was won by Miss Betty Curcione.

On Wednesday, March 25, about twenty friends of Miss C. Jones-Evans from East Kelowna gathered in her honour at the home of Mrs. Allan, in Kelowna. Miss Jones-Evans, whose marriage takes place in the near future, was the recipient of many beautiful as well as useful gifts from those who wished her well.

Mrs. J. E. Young has returned from Penticton, where she was for a week the guest of her son, in the Three Gables Hotel.

New regulations in licence fees for cars will make themselves felt locally in the curtailing of many favours on the part of Mr. Dodd or Mr. Perry, which, from long use, have come to be taken for granted by a large number of the people in this district. In the first place, it will be impossible for anyone wishing a ride to town to do so in the mail stage. There are many who will be unaffected by this regulation, but there are very few residents who do not occasionally ask that a parcel be picked up somewhere or other. This service has always been rendered cheerfully, and what is more to the point, gratuitously. Hereafter, however, those who wish for these favours will find a small charge attached, where the errand does not involve a business house for whom Mr. Dodd does not act specifically as agent.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. H. Armstrong, who received a cable acquainting her of the death of her mother in England.

RUTLAND HOOP CLUB TO WIND-UP SEASON'S PLAY

Members Will Hold Party To Mark Termination Of Year's Activities

The basketball boys held a meeting in Gray's packing house on Friday, March 27th. The club has had a successful year, having a paid-up membership of twenty-two, fifteen boys and seven girls. These teams played, although only the Intermediate A's entered a league. They reached the play-offs, losing to Vernon. Three dances were put on in the Hall, which netted a small amount to aid the club finances, and established the club's reputation for supplying good entertainment. The girls' team put on a Leap Year dance in the packing house which was a real success. This team, only seven in number, started late in the season, but made a good showing, winning against Oyama and Winfield. Next year they hope to get organized earlier. The club wishes to thank all those who have contributed in any way to making the season a success and look forward to an even better season next year.

To wind up the season the club will hold a party in Gray's packing house on Friday, April 3rd.

Evensong will be celebrated in St. Aidan's Church at 3 p.m. on Sunday, April 5th.

Miss Flora White passed away on Thursday, March 26th in New Westminster. We extend the sympathy of the community to the family.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association was held in the church on Friday last. Members of the Benvoulin W. A. were also in attendance. Glenmore W. A. was unable to be present owing to unforeseen circumstances, but sent their regrets. Mrs. Leithead gave a very inspiring talk. After reports and correspondence was dealt with, a pleasant social hour was spent. Miss Beatrice Eutin gave a vocal duet, which was encored. Tea was served from tables decorated with spring flowers. The members viewed the new cook stove in use for the first time, and all expressed themselves as satisfied with it. A cheque for $2.50 was received from the Young Women's Mission Circle toward its cost.

Mrs. J. Gervers and Lois Wanless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wanless, are patients in the Kelowna Hospital.

On Monday evening, March 30th, at the home of Mrs. E. Muggford, a miscellaneous shower was held in honour of Miss Rae Goudie. Members of the Welfare Club and the Young Women's Mission Circle, two societies of which the bride is a member, were hostesses. The many useful and beautiful gifts were presented in a steamer trunk, suitably labelled and strapped with white. After the gifts had been viewed by those present, a dainty supper was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in a sing song. The dining room was decorated with white streamers and wedding bells, while bowls of daffodils helped to carry out the general colour scheme of green and yellow.

A doe was seen on the benches during the week. It was last seen in "Mr. A. Noble's orchard."

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Rae Goudie was again honoured with a shower. It was held in the home of Mrs. C. L. Granger. Mrs. G. Fletcher and Mrs. S. Dudgeon were co-hostesses. The large number present indicated the high esteem in which Miss Goudie is held. This time the shower took form of a presentation by members of the Women's Association of the United Church, which consisted of three beautiful rugs and a set of kitchen enamelware in red and cream. Much laughter was caused in the manner of the presentation. There was a hearty knock at the door and in came an express messenger carrying large parcels. The recipient was asked to sign for the goods in a book already signed by those present. Mrs. G. Cross played the part of the messenger, uniform, moustache and all.

Tea was poured by Mrs. W. H. Ford and Miss Vera Ford. The tea table was decorated with mauve, pink and white streamers, with a large wedding bell suspended above. Games were played and Miss Beatrice Eutin sang. A pleasant afternoon was brought to a close with the singing of "She's a jolly good fellow."

PENTICTON WANTS SHORTER OPEN SEASON FOR DEER

Elk Not Desirable In That Locality Because Of Damage Done To Orchards

The Penticton and District Fish and Game Protective Association, as the old Penticton Rod and Gun Club will be known from henceforth, decided, at the first of its regular meetings on Monday, to seek purchase of the Fish Lake holdings.

The sum of twenty-five dollars was voted to be donated to the Kelowna Club for use in connection with the rearing ponds here. It was also decided to apply for 10,000 fry, which will be planted in various neighbouring lakes and streams.

A considerable reduction in the shooting season for deer was proposed, it being recommended that the Club for use in connection with the rearing ponds here. It was also decided to ask for the reduction of the bag limit from three to two bucks.

The elk question received much discussion, and it was decided to recommend to the Game Department that the season on these animals be opened from October 15th to November

Basketball Featured At Peachland Hall Opening

Big Crowd Sees Pentiction Basketeers Avenger Themselves Roundly On Kelowna

The new Peachland Athletic Association Hall easily held a large crowd on Friday evening for the official opening night of the new building when Kelowna Famous Players and Pentiction gave a very fine exhibition game. There were around two hundred and fifty present for the game, while supper was served to over two hundred at the dance which followed. The Pentiction team were on their toes to avenge their previous defeat at the hands of the Famous Players and played an aggressive game which gave them a 42 to 22 victory. Kelowna had only five men to play the entire game, and in the last half they were unable to keep up the fast pace set by the southern team, so that Pentiction's lead of six points at half-time, 15 to 9, grew rapidly as the game went on.

Andy Wilson at centre and McDougall as guard starred for the winners, with Wilson scoring 17 points.

This was the first opportunity that many of Peachland's residents had of seeing these two teams in action and they enjoyed the game thoroughly.

Scoring totals:
Kelowna: Ryan, 6; McKay, 6; Pettinan, 2; Poole, 2; Johnston, 6. Total, 22.
Pentiction: Wilson, 17; Gibbs, 2; R. Gibbs, Horton, 8; Gartrell; Ewart, 2; Blacklock, 7; Bennett, 2; McDougall, 4. Total, 42.

With the floor cleared for dancing to Bob Hayman's music, there was plenty of room for the large crowd to dance easily. The ladies excelled in the variety of good things provided for supper, which was served at mid-night, with the dancing continuing until two forty-five, which gave the Kelowna people time to catch the ferry leaving at 3:30.

The local High School team which went to Kelowna for the play-offs on Saturday afternoon arrived home in good spirits, although losing out on the day's play. Their initial game with Kelowna gave them some good pointers for the game following with Pentiction, so that, although they lost to Kelowna 22 to 0, they gave Pentiction a close race, losing by only one point, 19 to 18. The third game with Vernon found them pretty tired, as the same five played practically the whole three games; and Vernon took them 18 to 8.

The Peachland contingent all reported full justice done to the nice supper provided by the Kelowna ladies at the close of the game.

Mrs. J. B. Hawkes arrived on Tuesday after a short visit spent in Pentiction with her daughter, Mrs. M. Ashley.

Tragedies and Disasters

What's wrong with the world? Have you noticed the newspapers lately? The front pages are crowded with wars, rumours of wars, floods and plagues. Is the world gradually passing into worse times, in spite of all our science, or is it just that modern newspapers bring news of such tragedies and disasters from a wider field, and so we hear much today that yesterday would never have reached our ears. In Vancouver, this winter has been one of the worst for sickness within memory. Epidemics of 'flu (in spite of the M. O.'s assertion that there was none, only bad colds) measles and mumps have played havoc with almost every home. Whole families have been laid aside, and school and other classes have been simply decimated. In one class of our knowledge, 80% of the children were absent in one month. What Vancouver needs today is more sunshine. This is an asset the Okanagan has that no money can purchase. Few indeed have remained immune, and a curious feature has been the number of adults who have gone down with children's diseases.

It seems to be true that rain is the logical and best weather for Vancouver, and that the murky fogs or the intense cold are foreign to it. In any case people thrive upon the wet.

Ave! Famous Players

So the Famous Players made a fighting exit to the basketball this year. Well, there is a limit to all champion teams, and it had to come, as a number of these players are not growing any younger and years will take their toll, even upon comparatively young men. Feats that a few years ago would have been comparatively easy grow increasingly difficult, and the susceptibility to accident increases correspondingly. Well, they have made a noble fight and can lay up their sweaters with a proud record. There is a likely lot of players coming on who, if properly looked after, will doubtless uphold the feared name of Kelowna.

Fashions Attract Missionary Delegates

Several hundreds of women converged to one point in Vancouver this week. No, it was not a mere man who was the drawing power, but a Women's Missionary Convention, and we were glad to see Mrs. J. N. Thompson looking so well and seemingly thoroughly enjoying herself. Strong as was the drawing card, however, human nature is human nature, and women will be women. It happened that a prominent dressmaker was putting on a Style Show at 3 p.m. on the opening day. The show was within two blocks of the centre of assembly, and there was a desperate rush to get through business by 3 p.m. To a mere man it was comical to pass the stylist's place of business and to see a number of the delegates endeavouring to see the "styles" through the glass windows. There was "no room" inside.

The New City Hall

The new City Hall has now risen to respectable heights, and the superstructure is quite plain and gives an excellent idea of the ultimate stately form of the finished building. Whatever criticism may be levelled about location, no one can deny that from a beauty standpoint it would be difficult to beat. It stands high upon a lovely park and has a splendid view of the mountains and the Lions in particular. Then, after all these years, Vancouver will really and truly have a City Hall.

Criticism of "Gerry" Wanes

There has been a notable decrease in the criticism of Mayor Gerry McGeer. Even his enemies have had to admit that he is just about the best booster our city has ever known. The unlimited enterprise and tireless energy of the man has the ordinary man in the street astounded. Now he is at Ottawa, and the next day it seems in Vancouver, then over to Victoria, and then in Seattle, and again in New York, back to Ottawa, and wherever he is he is "news". The press men should club together and give him a memorial, for many a day he has headlined the front pages when other news was at a premium. But we are sure Premier Pattullo is glad he is in Ottawa.

BULK OF APPLE MOVEMENT IS FOR EXPORT

Release Authorized Of Remainder Of No. 6 Cartel, Which Includes Winesap

The British Columbia Tree Fruit Board has authorized the marketing of an additional 90 per cent of the No. 6 Cartel, including Winesap, etc. This brings the total release in this Cartel to 100 per cent.

More than 40,000 boxes have moved out of the Valley during the week from March 14th to March 21st, the bulk of this movement being export.

East Took Little Frosted Fruit
An interesting table has been compiled by the Tree Fruit Board showing the distribution of frosted shipments throughout Canada, and reveals that out of a total of 175,494 boxes, the prairie provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba took a total of 136,158 boxes, approximately 45,000 each. British Columbia accounted for a total of 34,936, while Ontario and Quebec disposed of 2,764 and 1,636 boxes respectively.

ELLISON

Among those who went up to Kamloops for the Bull Sale and stock show last week were Mr. Cesare Bertucci and Mr. Bob Stewart. Mr. J. J. Conroy made a business trip to Kamloops later in the week, and they all report that passage by car over the northern roads at this time is not an unalloyed pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller and children went to Vancouver last week, where Mr. Miller intends to engage in the lumber business.

It is with genuine pleasure that we welcome Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lang back among us after several months spent with their son in San Francisco, though we shrink with shame for our Okanagan Valley and its weather vagaries of the past week when we think how favourably it must compare with the flower-strewn southern state.

Going to town these days is somewhat like playing the bewildering game of "Maze". If one can arrive there without treading on forbidden roads, knocking down a barrier, getting stuck in a mud hole or going so far out of one's way following the turnings and twistings of detours, that the original destination is all but forgotten—you stay in the game. We feel we are greatly indebted to Glenmore Municipality for the use, lately of their shipshape roads which has made "going to town" so much less of a hazard.

Several local citizens were roused from slumber Friday night (or Saturday morning) by the slight earthquake tremor that undertook to shake up the Okanagan, but none of them was known to mention it until the broadcast from CKOV verified their hazy impression—then we all felt very pleased to find that we knew an earthquake when we felt it.

According to the annual report on farm values for 1935, there were 2,931,337 horses in Canada during that year; 3,849,000 milch cows; 4,971,400 other cattle—total, 8,820,600; sheep, 2,399,100; and swine, 3,549,200. Although the number of animals was less than in 1934, the value was considerably greater, showing an increase of 18 per cent, or a total of $75,489,000.

Boy Parliamentarians To Visit Kelowna

Kelowna has many visitors, but few will be more interesting than a group of the boys of the Tuxis Older Boys' Parliament, who will visit Kelowna for the purpose of furthering interest in their work and their youth movement. They are just as fine a lot of lads as one could wish to meet. They will be led by the Premier-elect, Ernest Alexander, who, by the by, is the youngest boy to ever be nominated to this important post. He should be doubly interesting to Kelowna, for he was a resident here. We are sure Kelowna will take the boys to their hearts and extend to them that famous hospitality which has won for Kelowna a reputation even surpassing her apples. As these lads contact many people in a year, their advertising ability is valuable.

AUSTRALIAN APPLE SHIPMENTS HELD BACK BY DROUGHT

Antipodean Fruit Backward In Size And Colour Owing To Lack Of Moisture

Australian apples are not maturing for export shipment on account of dry weather, and shippers are finding difficulty in filling space, according to information published by the Fruit Export Board's local office.

The fruit from the Antipodes is backward in size and colour owing to lack of rain, and it is uncertain whether or not March shipments will reach the estimated amount.

The varieties of apples allowed export from Victoria to Britain total 45, the same as last year. For markets other than British and Continental, the following varieties are permitted shipment: Gravenstein, McIntosh Red, Pioneer, Nickajack, Spitzenberg, Stayman and Rymur.

Winfield Hears Lecture On Japanese Problems

Rev. Mr. Tench Gives Interesting Talk On "Japan, At Home And Abroad"

On Tuesday evening of last week the Rev. Mr. Tench gave a lecture on "Japan, At Home and Abroad". This was held in the United Church, with a fair turn-out and was listened to with much interest.

The lecture throughout dealt chiefly with the middle class or agriculturists but gave an insight into the forward movement of the Japanese as a nation. Mr. Tench dwelt on the courteous nature of the race and told incidents to demonstrate how they are imitating the Western people. He pointed out how they have brought experts in from other lands to teach them better methods. This also applies to games, in many of which such as tennis, baseball, and even hockey, they excel. He gave the population of the main island as 70,000,000, which makes it the densest populated of any country in the world.

He spoke at some length on the hardships of the people, showing also the privation and great loss of life occasioned by earthquakes, tidal waves and typhoons. He told of visiting Yokohama and other cities after the great earthquake, when little was left except the chimneys of the city, the greatest loss being caused by the fires starting after the quake. He spoke of the great bravery of the people in those times of desolation and bereavement and of how they made shelters from the debris such as corrugated iron, etc., until such time as they could again build up the city.

Some of the facts mentioned seemed strange to the people of our lands, being so different. One was the fact that it is the children's prerogative to play on the streets of the city, and where a city had 10,000 taxis in operation the speaker had never heard of a child being injured by a motorist. Mention was also made that in the cities they dress just as we do, and that the women are now quite in evidence at games and social gatherings. He spoke of the small plots of land in the farms and how the work is still done in the most primitive manner, but stated that the standard of living was not necessarily so much lower than our own as many might suppose, as one dollar there in travelling or buying of clothing was equal to about $5.00 here.

The Japanese chief problem is to find new territory to which to migrate as, with 1,000,000 births per year, the country is becoming too crowded. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Tench gave a period for asking questions, of which several availed themselves. Mr. Tench said he would be willing to give one or more further lectures if the people wished it, and received a practically unanimous request to do so. Such will probably touch on political and economical lines. A silver collection was taken for missionary purposes.

These lectures are worthy of an even greater audience than the last, and it is hoped that more will attend the further lectures. Everyone, regardless of denomination, will be welcome.

Sunday School will again commence on the first Sabbath in April. A full supply of lesson helps and papers has been ordered and should be in hand before that time. Some difficulty was found in getting a full set of officers and teachers and it is hoped the parents will all co-operate in getting the young folks to attend so that all may be encouraged to carry on.

Mr. J. H. Aberdeen was a passenger to the Coast on Thursday.

TREATMENT OF SEED CONTROLS DISEASE

Methods Greatly Simplified By Use
Of Organic Mercury Dusts

Many of the best varieties of wheat, oats and barley are susceptible to smut, and until they can be replaced by suitable smut-resistant varieties, careful and regular seed treatment offers the only method of controlling this disease. Freedom from seed-borne diseases, such as smut, is usually considered to be one of the most important characteristics of registered and certified seed, and purchasers of this seed, relying upon its quality, frequently sow it without treatment. Yet, according to a statement from the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory at Winnipeg, even seed of the highest quality, showing a trace of smut, may produce a smutty crop if sown under conditions favourable for smut infection. It is particularly important that all registered and certified seed should be free from smut. Elimination of smut from such seed would prevent the spread of the disease with new varieties, and would help to improve both yield and quality in the commercial crop.

The treatment of wheat, oats and barley has been greatly simplified by the recent introduction of organic mercury dusts such as New Improved Ceresan. This dust, when applied to the seed at the rate of one-half ounce per bushel, effectively controls the smut of oats, covered smut of barley, and bunt of wheat. It also improves seed germination. Tests are being made of other organic mercury dusts now being sold in Canada. Wheat may be treated with copper carbonate dust (2 ounces per bushel) for the control of bunt, but this dust should not be used for grains, such as oats and barley which have a coarse hull. Copper sulphate, commonly known as blue stone, may cause severe seed injury, and should not be used for treating grain.

Formalin solution (one pound of formalin to 30 gallons of water) has long been used as a treatment for the smuts of oats, covered smut of barley, and bunt of wheat. This treatment, if well done, is effective, but is likely to impair the germination of the seed, particularly of wheat, and reduce the yield. Further information

TESTED RECIPES

Maple Custard

2 cups milk, 1 cup maple syrup, 3 eggs.
Heat milk and maple syrup together to boiling point but do not allow to boil. Pour over the eggs which have been well beaten, add a few grains of salt and strain into buttered custard cups. Set cups in warm water and bake until custard is firm. Cool and turn out. Serve with maple syrup if desired.

Maple Spread

4 cups maple syrup, 1/2 cup cream. Boil syrup five minutes. Add cream and boil three minutes. Remove from the fire and allow to become cool, beat five minutes and pour into glass jars. This may be used as a cake icing, a spread for toast, or as hard sauce for plain puddings.

Maple Trifle

Crumble stale cake crumbs in four custard cups until half full. Over them pour maple syrup, allowing about three tablespoons to each cup. Allow to stand 20 minutes. Then pour over a custard made as follows: 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons maple syrup.

Heat milk and syrup to boiling point. Beat egg and one yolk until thick, add hot milk and cook in a double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon. Pour over crumbs while hot. When cold, cover with a meringue made from one egg white and two tablespoons granulated sugar and brown in a slow oven.

Maple-Apple Pudding

4 apples, 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup water, 1/4 cup maple syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder.
Put sliced apples in a buttered casserole and pour maple syrup over them. Sift flour with baking powder. Melt butter and add cold water. Pour over sifted flour, beat well and spread over the apples. Steam three-quarters of an hour or bake 20 minutes.

Sausages and Fried Apples

Prick the sausage well with a fork. Place in deep frying pan; pour in enough boiling water to cover the bottom; cover and cook over a moderate fire. When water evaporates, remove cover and turn the sausages several times so that they may be nicely browned. Turn on to a platter. Core a number of large tart apples. Cut them in rings an inch thick and dry in the sausage fat. Garnish the sausage with apples and serve.

Brown Betty

Butter a baking dish; put on the bottom a layer of sliced apples, and over the apples a layer of stale grated bread crumbs, just thick enough to cover the layer of apples and add little lumps of butter, sugar, and a pinch of cloves, allspice, and cinnamon. Then begin again with another layer of apples, followed by a layer of crumbs, and so on until the dish is filled, ending with a thick layer of crumbs and lumps of butter. With a knife make a space on four sides between the dish and the pudding, and pour in a 1/2 cup of molasses and a half cup of cold water sweetened with sugar. Smooth the spaces over, and set the dish in a pan of boiling water and bake until the apples are tender and the crumbs slightly brown. Serve with cream or with lemon pudding sauce.

Shepherd's Pie

Butter an earthen baking dish and line the sides and bottom to the depth of 1 1/2 inches with hot mashed potatoes. Season with finely chopped onion or chives, one tablespoonful to two cups mashed potatoes. Fill centre with chopped left-over cold beef. Moisten with brown or cream sauce, to which add 1/2 tablespoonful minced parsley and onion juice. Cover with a layer of the potato mixture, make several openings in top of pie, and brush top over with beaten egg diluted with milk. Bake in oven until heated through and well browned. Serve hot in the baking dish or unmould in hot platter. Surround with sauce and sprinkle with paprika.

Canadian Macaroni

Canadian macaroni with left over meat makes a palatable dish. Parboil about 10 ounces of Canadian macaroni for seven minutes in four quarts of rapidly boiling water to which one tablespoonful of salt has been added. Drain the macaroni, and mix it with 1 1/2 cups of chopped left-over meat.

CANADIAN LEGION TO MEET AT PENTICTON NEXT YEAR

Annual Conference Of Provincial Command Stated For Southern Town

The annual conference of the Provincial Command, Canadian Legion, will be held in the town of Penticton in 1937, probably in the month of August.

It is anticipated that some 150 to 200 delegates and Legion members will come to the southern town for the event. This is the first time in the history of the organization that the convention has been held in Penticton.

Less Demand

Mrs. A.—Do you find it more economical to do your own cooking?
Mrs. B.—I do. My husband doesn't eat half so much as he did!

3 cups of gravy, one-half onion chopped, one tablespoonful melted butter, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful pepper, and one cup grated cheese. Pour the mixture into a well-greased baking dish and cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake for 20 minutes. Canadian made spaghetti may be substituted for the macaroni.

CULINARY WISDOM

Soda added to vegetables when cooking heightens the colour but destroys valuable vitamins.

Vitamins B, C and E are water soluble, and therefore the water in which vegetables are cooked should never be thrown away.

If old carrots are soaked in cold water for an hour, they may be scraped instead of peeling and more food value is thus retained.

Parsnips are better if peeled after cooking.

Cabbage should be soaked in cold salted water for about 20 minutes before cooking, and 8 minutes is sufficient time for cooking, if it is chopped, and 15 minutes, if in quarters.

Salt added to coloured vegetables when partially cooked prevents loss of colour.

If onions are peeled under water they do not cause tears.

Dried beans, peas and lentils should be soaked in soft water.

NEW DEFENCE HEAD

Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General since 1932, has been appointed in a surprise move by Premier Baldwin, as the new Minister to co-ordinate the defence forces of the United Kingdom.

WESTBANK

Mrs. George Ingram, who is leaving for Manitoba, was presented with a purse of money as a token of esteem from her many friends in Westbank.

Westbank Badminton Club visited Summerland on Monday night and had some good games, the score being 9 to 7 in favour of Westbank.

A number of young people attended the opening dance of Peachland Athletic Hall on Friday night.

The Badminton Club has closed for the season as outdoor work is becoming general and there is no time for games just now.

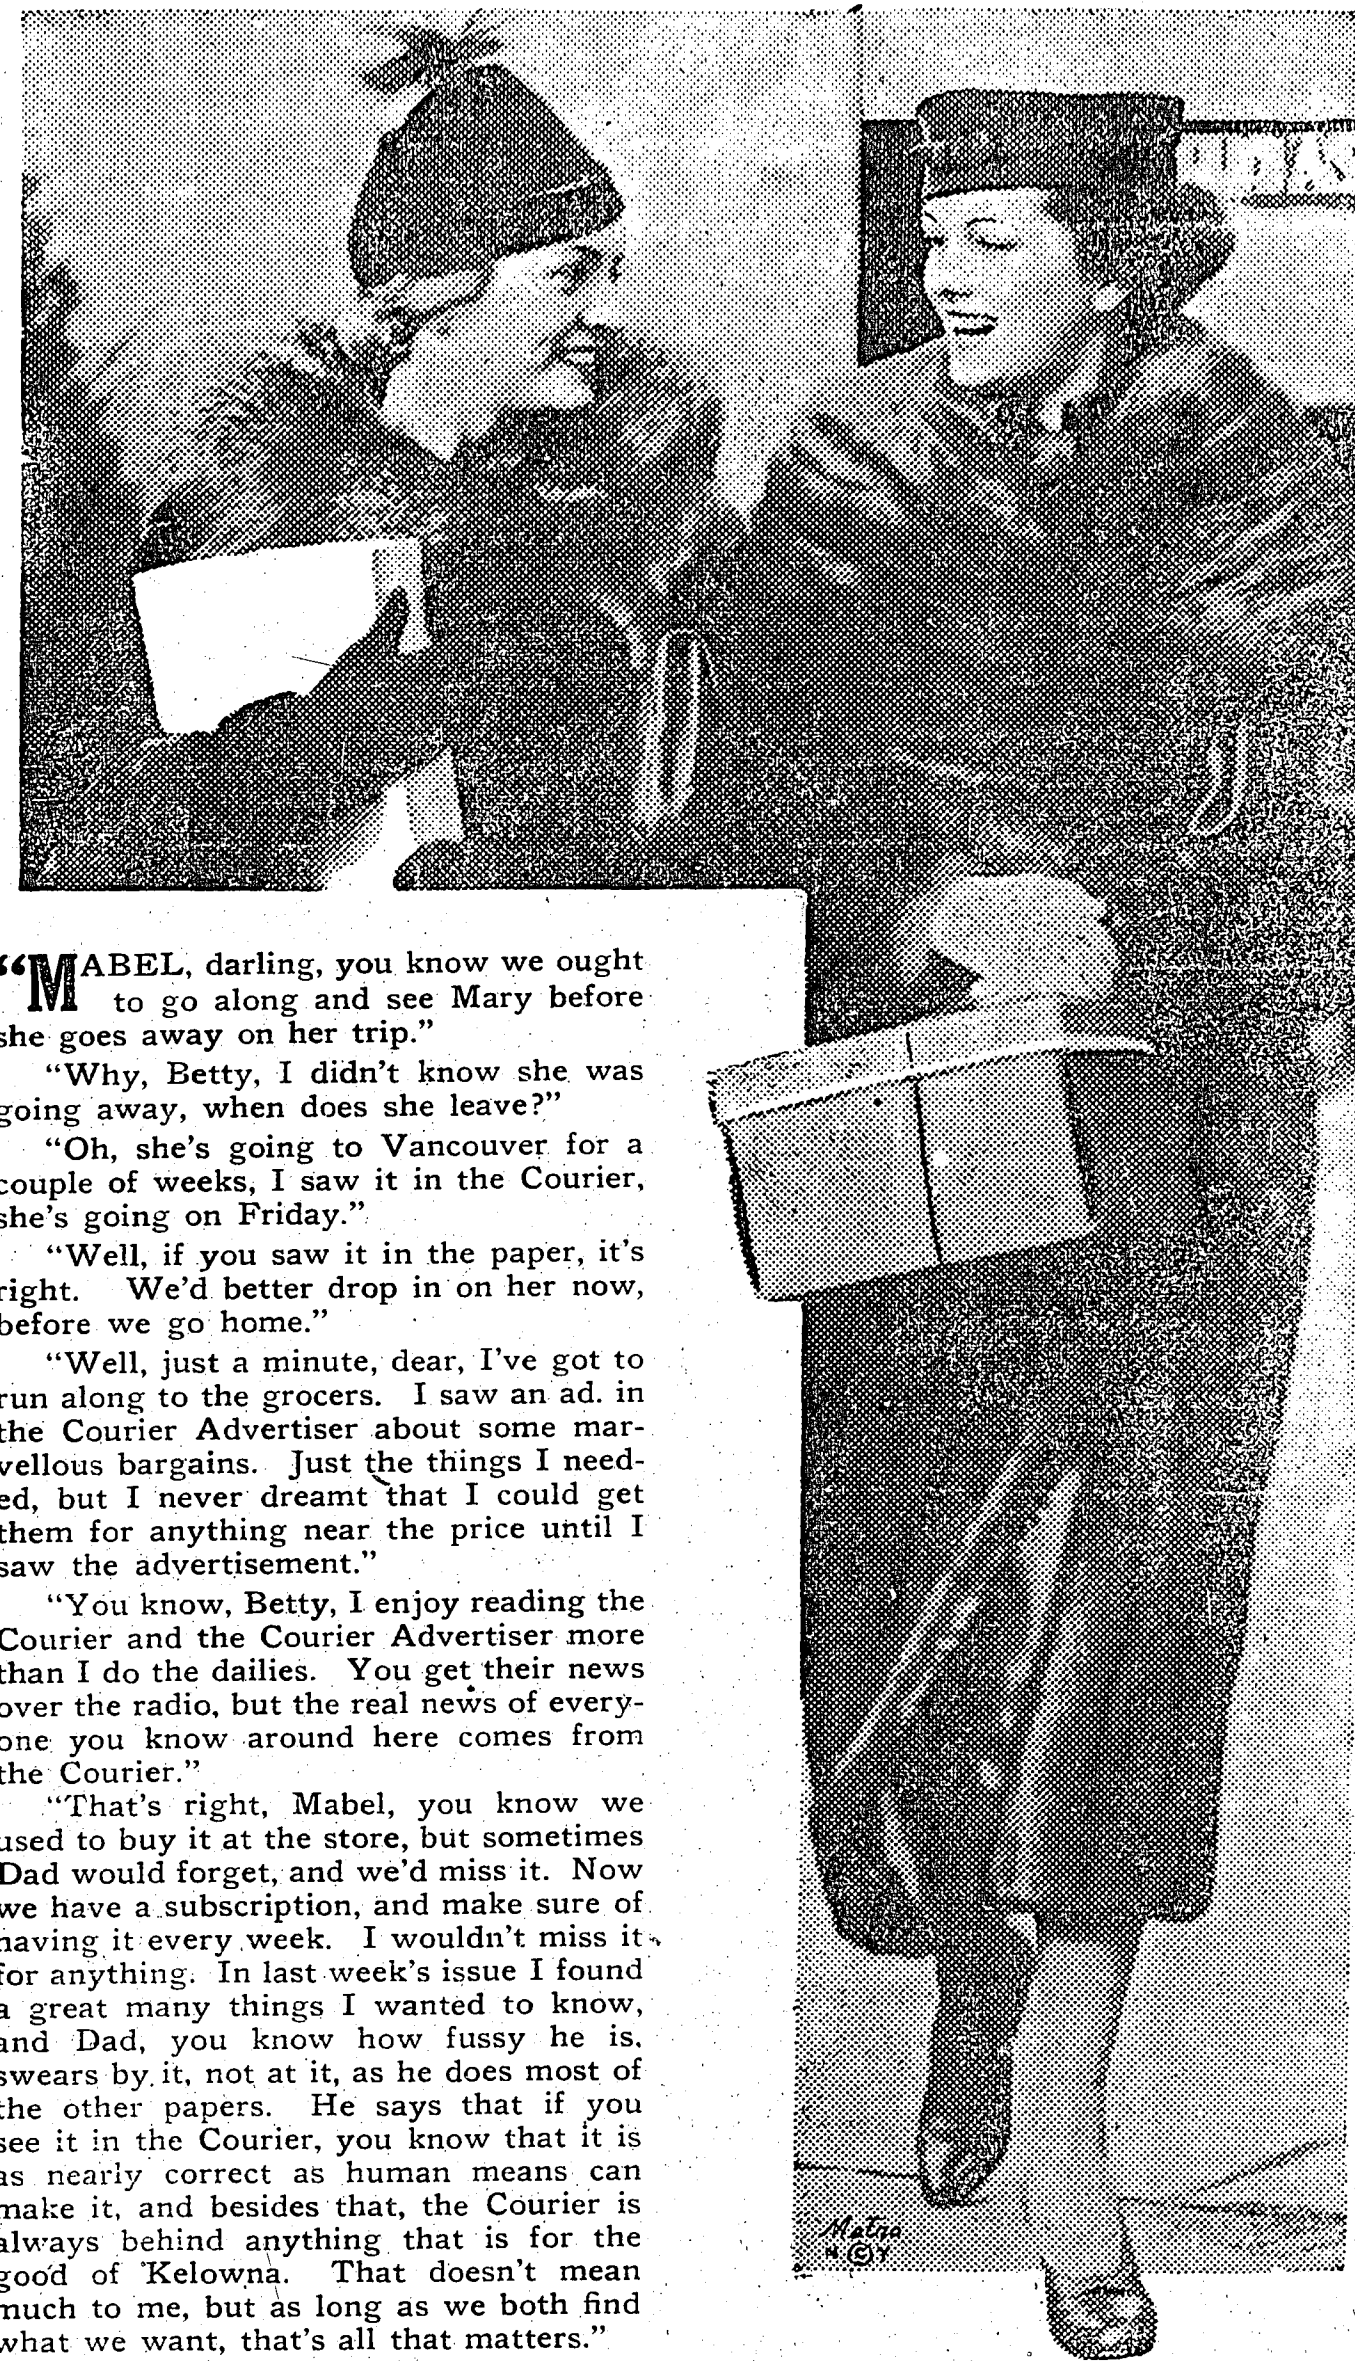

Mrs. Prior, of Vernon, was a visitor at the homes of Mrs. Pritchard and Mrs. George Ingram last week. Everyone is pleased to know that her health is so much better.

The Reason

"Have you ever speculated on why you're so popular in your neighbourhood?"

"No, except that I told my neighbours that I always played the saxophone when I got lonely."

They read The COURIER...

"MABEL, darling, you know we ought to go along and see Mary before she goes away on her trip."

"Why, Betty, I didn't know she was going away, when does she leave?"

"Oh, she's going to Vancouver for a couple of weeks, I saw it in the Courier, she's going on Friday."

"Well, if you saw it in the paper, it's right. We'd better drop in on her now, before we go home."

"Well, just a minute, dear, I've got to run along to the grocers. I saw an ad. in the Courier Advertiser about some marvellous bargains. Just the things I needed, but I never dreamt that I could get them for anything near the price until I saw the advertisement."

"You know, Betty, I enjoy reading the Courier and the Courier Advertiser more than I do the dailies. You get their news over the radio, but the real news of everyone you know around here comes from the Courier."

"That's right, Mabel, you know we used to buy it at the store, but sometimes Dad would forget, and we'd miss it. Now we have a subscription, and make sure of having it every week. I wouldn't miss it for anything. In last week's issue I found a great many things I wanted to know, and Dad, you know how fussy he is, swears by it, not at it, as he does most of the other papers. He says that if you see it in the Courier, you know that it is as nearly correct as human means can make it, and besides that, the Courier is always behind anything that is for the good of Kelowna. That doesn't mean much to me, but as long as we both find what we want, that's all that matters."

OKANAGAN MISSION

Congratulations to Miss Zoe Browne-Clayton, who has been elected editor of the "Okanagan" for the year 1936-37. She is the second woman to achieve this distinction.

The Badminton Club Tournament, played on Tuesday and Wednesday night of last week, proved so successful that the secretary has announced his intention of having several of these competitions during the next season.

The winners of the four couples playing on Tuesday night were Gilbert Davis and Mrs. McClymont, who met Bert Farris and Miss Hay, winners of the five couples playing on Wednesday night. In the final, Bert Farris and Miss Hay won in an exciting game.

Due to the handicapping of the games were close and it was evident that the tournament was much enjoyed by all members.

Among those taking advantage of the excursion rates to the Coast was Miss Dykes, who left last Thursday for two or three weeks holiday at Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wilson, of Paradise Ranch, Naramata, were visitors to the Mission last Friday.

The annual general meeting of the Okanagan Mission Tennis Club will be held next Monday, April 6th, in the packing-house.

We are sorry to hear that Peter Mallam is in quarantine for German measles.

Mrs. Stallard, who had been in England for several months, returned to the Mission on Saturday. She is spending a few days with Mrs. W. D. Walker before going in to her own house.

Mr. Robinson left by car last Saturday for the Coast, where he has got a civil service job.

Mr. Van Sickle, who came here recently from the prairies, has purchased ten acres of Mr. Thorne's land.

Harold Willett left for Vancouver on Wednesday.

Much sympathy is felt with the Aspey family while Dorothy is so seriously ill with pneumonia.

There were about fifteen members present at the Village Club meeting on Monday night, held in the Belle Vue Hotel. The plays were the main topic of conversation and arrangements for a closing dance were postponed till the next meeting. The President expressed disappointment at the number of tickets sold for the plays and urged members to get busy. Unfortunately, Harold Willett and Norman Aspey are unable to take part in the plays and the producer has had to do some last-minute substituting. Impromptu entertainment, which included "Adverbs" and "Musical Chairs", followed the short business session.

The christening of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunlop's three-months-old daughter took place on Tuesday afternoon at St. Andrew's Church. The Rev. C. E. Davis officiating. She was christened Joan Heather.

Miss Kitty Haverfield, a pupil at Strathcona Lodge School, returned home today for the Easter holidays.

The annual Riding Club dance will be held on Friday, April 17th, at the Belle Vue Hall.

GLENMORE

Orchardists are busy spraying but it is impossible to make much headway on account of high winds. They believe the buds of peaches, apricots, cherries, and Bartlett pears have been damaged by the severe frosts of last October.

Miss Olive Chartman spent last week-end with Miss Mildred Hume.

Mrs. V. Martin is confined to her home through illness.

Mrs. Cookson motored to Kamloops last Friday, taking her mother, Mrs. Barlee, who is in ill health, up to the hospital there, in order to be under the care of a specialist.

We are pleased to hear that Jack Ward is improving and is now able to sit up in a chair for a short while each day.

Mrs. G. C. Hume was a passenger on the C.P.R. to Vancouver last Friday, returning Monday.

Congratulations to four of our local boys, who journeyed to Oliver last Friday and helped to win the basketball championship for the Senior C's. They also played at Peachland on Saturday night, leaving there directly after the game, in order to catch the last ferry, but were delayed for a short time by car trouble, and arrived at Westbank to find that the ferry had already pulled out. They put in the night in the waiting room at the wharf. Fortunately, there was a stove and plenty of wood.

We are sorry to hear that little Jean Calles has been threatened with mastoid. Her ear has been lanced and at time of writing is feeling much better.

Messrs. L. E. Marshall and M. D. Wilson are each putting in stationary spraying outfits.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT LEADERS WILL VISIT KELOWNA

Representatives Will Take Part In Number Of Functions Arranged For Them

Three years ago, members of the Boys' Parliament conceived the idea of stimulating interest in their work by having some of the outstanding members visit the outlying constituencies of the province. It was felt that many of the boys the Premier and Cabinet members were merely names, and that a personal contact with their elected leaders would have far reaching results. The tours have proved to be highly profitable and much inspiration has resulted, and from many quarters letters have come to the offices of the Religious Education Council asking for "requests".

This year the Okanagan is to be visited again. The party will be headed by Premier-elect Ernest Alexander, and accompanying him will be his right hand men, Jack Ewen of New Westminster, Government Critic-elect, and Beresford Menagh, of North Vancouver, who will be the Speaker in the next House. These boys have all outstanding records of service for boys' work. They are experienced and able speakers, and all are unusually gifted with personality. The object of the tour is to stimulate interest among youth and adults in youth problems, and to help to construct a worthwhile programme which will help youth in every avenue of life. The primary aim and object of the Tuxis programme is character-building. To this end the boys will meet with the boys and their leaders and seek an opportunity also of meeting the adults and parents, as they feel that modern conditions call for a very close contact between the home and the boy. Their visit will not merely be a "speaking tour" but they will confer with the leaders and offer practical suggestions for the furtherance of their work.

Accompanying the group also will be Arthur Lloyd-Jones, of Kelowna, who is the member for the North Okanagan, Bert Tate, of Penticton, who represents the South Okanagan, will accompany the party to Kelowna.

In charge of the group will be Bert Fiddes, of Chalmers United Church, Vancouver, who has been assisting the R. E. C. in their promotion work. He is well known in the Okanagan valley, having been resident in Kelowna for a number of years. This year completes 25 years of service in boys' work for Mr. Fiddes, and during the visit of the boys he will give leaders and boys the benefit of any help he can render.

The itinerary of the tour calls for the boys to reach Kelowna Wednesday evening, April 15th, and they will stay in Kelowna until the following Monday.

A number of functions and meetings are being arranged for them, full particulars of which will be given in the next issue of The Courier. The details not yet having been entirely completed. The public is most cordially invited to attend all public sessions.

The party this year brings the three leading personalities of next year's Parliament to the Okanagan, and without doubt the people of the Valley will take the boys to their hearts. They will show them that wonderful hospitality which has made the Okanagan as famous as its apples.

WHO'S WHO*ERNIE ALEXANDER

Ernie Alexander, Premier-elect, is the youngest Premier ever elected to the post in a B. C. Boys' Parliament. He has a striking personality, radiant and clean-cut, and is universally popular with the boys. He belongs to Shaughnessy United Church "Keys" Club, is President of the Magee Hi-Y, and holds office in the Grand Chapter of the Hi-Y. Ernie's advance in Parliament has been unusually rapid. He acquitted himself last year in the very difficult office of Speaker with such dignity and ability that he was chosen as Premier for the 1936-37 Parliament. He is an old Kelowna boy and is well known throughout the Okanagan.

There are now 1,046,433 Boy Scouts and leaders in the United States.

Boy Scouts of Rajputana, India, were highly commended for two days' continuous rescue work during the recent heavy floods in nearby districts.

The annual gift of Australian Boy Scouts to Roland House, the East London Settlement, and Rosemary Home, the Scout Association's convalescent home at Herne Bay, was not overlooked at Christmas. It was, to each, a choice frozen lamb for their Christmas dinner.

"I have just made a tour of our great Empire, and no one who has not done this can realize the surprising extent and power of the great Commonwealth of Nations."—Lord Baden-Powell, opening a South African Scout Jamboree at East London in January.

Upon the proposal of Mr. Walter Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America, a member of the International Committee, the first award of the new international Scout decoration, the Bronze Wolf, for exceptional service to world Scouting, was made to Lord Baden-Powell.

In the death of Rudyard Kipling the Boy Scouts lost not only a strong supporter and friend, but one who had contributed very importantly to the founding of the junior branch of the Movement, the Wolf Cubs. When seeking a foundation plan for the projected junior Scouts, Baden-Powell found it in Kipling's "Jungle Books" in the story of Mowgli, the boy-wolf cub, and the laws of the jungle animals. This was the origin of the Wolf Cub promise. "The Cub gives in to the Old Wolf: the Cub does not give in to himself." The first Wolf Cub Handbook was dedicated by the Chief Scout to Mr. Kipling, and at large Scout gatherings the great writer always showed particular interest in the doings of the "Cubs". He was a member of the Scout Council from 1923 to the time of his death.

BERESFORD MENAGH

Beresford Menagh, a lad of Irish extraction, as his name indicates, comes from North Vancouver, where he has done a fine piece of work. He, like the other boys, is unusually good looking and has a charming personality. On this trip his special work will be promotion of interest groups and hobbies. His aim in life is to become a lawyer.

At present, among many other offices, he is Chairman of the Boys' Parliament Committee. Some five years ago he was called from Kelowna to Vancouver to undertake the young people's

ANY CHEF WOULD ENVY THIS MACARONI-AND-CHEESE*AN OLD-TIME DISH WITH A NEW FLAVOUR

You have never tasted baked macaroni and cheese so good! The secret is the rich creamy flavour which only St. Charles can give—the perfect complement to any cheese dish. Serve it hot from the oven. Try this easy recipe—

1 cup macaroni (1-inch pieces) Few grains pepper
2 tablespoons butter 1 cup St. Charles Milk
4 tablespoons flour 1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 package (7 pound) "Chateau" Cheese

Boil macaroni until tender. Drain, rinse in cold water and again drain. Melt butter, blend in flour and seasonings (adding a little dry mustard, if desired). Stir in St. Charles Milk and water, brought to a boil; stir and cook until mixture has thickened smoothly and no raw flavour of flour remains. Press "Chateau" through coarse sieve and add all but three tablespoons to sauce; stir until melted. Add macaroni and turn into greased pan. Cover with sliced "Chateau" and re-bake in oven in moderately hot oven, 375° F.

Whenever extra creaminess will improve a recipe—remember to use St. Charles. That is the economical way to make better creamed soups, vegetable dishes, custards and other desserts. St. Charles is whole country milk with all the cream, evaporated to double richness, and irradiated for extra Sunshine Vitamin D in the spotless Borden plants.

Ask for St. Charles Milk, in the tin with the "Gold Cow" on the blue and white label.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS VICTORIOUS IN HOOP PLAYOFFS

All Three Games With Vernon, Peachland And Pentiction Won
—Girls Lose Two Games

Kelowna boys emerged victors in the boys' division of the High School basketball playoffs for the South Okanagan, held in the Scout Hall on Saturday afternoon, March 28th, winning all three of their games against Vernon, Peachland and Pentiction.

In the girls' division, the Pentiction girls initiated the record of the Kelowna boys and took all three games by an easy margin.

The two best games of the afternoon were between the Kelowna and Vernon boys, in which Kelowna won by the narrow margin of one point, with the score reading 11-10, and the local aggregation and Pentiction boys, the score being 20-14 in favour of the Kelowna team. In their game with Peachland, the local boys scored a complete victory, tallying 22 points and holding their opponents to zero.

The games were 20 minutes in length for the boys, and 16 minutes for the girls, no time out being allowed, and play continuous except for changing at half-time. Beginning sharp at 1 p.m., the play carried through without cessation until 5 o'clock, providing the large crowd of spectators with a fine afternoon's spectacle of sport.

The standard of play, on the whole, was fairly high. This was the first time that the Peachland players had entered in any kind of tournament play, and in their first game with the Kelowna boys they went down to a stinging defeat. In their next engagement, with Pentiction, however, they staged a brilliant rally and fought the southern team to a neck-and-neck finish, with the score reading 19-18 in favour of Pentiction when the whistle blew.

The local girls could not seem to get started in their first play, with Vernon, the opening game of the series, they went down to defeat 12-2. They won against Summerland 9-4, and then bowed to the Pentiction girls 14-2.

The visiting players were guests at a banquet given them at the United Church Hall, and were also guests of honour at a dance given at the Junior High School Auditorium, which was attended by a large crowd and greatly enjoyed.

Detailed results of the various games: Pentiction girls won from Summerland, 28-4; Pentiction boys won from:

PITTSBURGH UNDER WATER

In the recent floods which swept the Eastern United States at least 187 persons are reported to have lost their lives, while the damage to property is estimated at over $300,000,000. The picture shows a section of Pittsburgh, Pa., which was inundated, with all traffic paralyzed and all electric power cut off.

Vernon, 16-13; Kelowna boys won from Peachland, 22-0; Kelowna girls won from Summerland, 9-4; Pentiction girls won from Vernon, 12-7; Kelowna boys won from Vernon, 11-10; Pentiction boys won from Peachland, 19-18; Vernon girls won from Kelowna, 12-2; Vernon girls won from Summerland, 14-5; Pentiction girls won from Kelowna, 14-2; Vernon girls won from Peachland, 18-4 and the Kelowna boys won from Pentiction, 20-14.

An interesting feature of the tournament was the fact that the last two games decided the winners in both the boys and girls games.

COMMERCIAL RADIO PROGRAMMES FIND FAVOUR IN DEBATE

Affirmative Judged Winner In Discussion At Anglican Young People's Club

Problems and needs of Canadian radio broadcasters and audiences were fully discussed at the weekly meeting of the Anglican Young People's Club on Tuesday evening, when a debate as to whether or not the Canadian Radio Commission should accept commercial programmes resulted in a decided victory for the affirmative.

Miss Mary Royle and Mr. Neil Barford were the successful debaters, scoring their victory over Miss Dorothy Hardy and Mr. Frank Baldock. Faced with the difficult task of finding arguments in their favour, the negative put up a good fight, but were eliminated by the well prepared case for the affirmative.

After the debate had been judged, Mr. Jim Browne of CKOV, gave a particularly interesting informal talk on the subject of the debate, agreeing wholeheartedly with the plea that the Commission should be allowed to accept commercial broadcasts. He explained that, under the present conditions, the Commission is greatly hampered by lack of funds, but that, with the additional revenue that would easily be forthcoming, a much finer variety of programmes could be given.

An interesting point in Mr. Browne's address was what amounted to a revelation to many present, namely, that the much vaunted British Broadcasting Corporation did not present programmes that were of a higher cultural standard than those of any other country, but rather leaned to a large percentage of popular music and music hall selections.

Plans were made for a hike on Easter Monday in which the whole club, it is hoped, will participate.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

LOWER PRICES FOR POTATOES AND MELONS

Growers May Have To Accept Reductions In Order To Compete

A resume of the activity of the Vegetable Board was given by Mr. Tom Wilkinson at a vegetable meeting in Summerland on Monday.

Mr. Wilkinson expressed himself as being of the opinion that Okanagan potato growers will have to lower their prices in comparison with Ashcroft produce to successfully compete with the higher grade of potato grown in that locality.

He stated that he considered the same would apply to growers of cantaloupe in the Okanagan, with the exception of the Oliver and Osoyoos districts, Cantaloupe from valley districts other than these are, in most cases, disfigured by an earthy mark that detracts from their appearance and marketing value.

GROWERS TO BENEFIT BY RAISE IN ONION PRICES

Only Fifteen Per Cent Of Remaining
Tonnage In Hands Of Shippers

The rumour circulating that shippers will reap the major benefit from the recent raise in the onion prices has been completely dispelled by Col. E. Poole, of the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board, who stated here on Wednesday that no more than fifteen per cent of the tonnage remaining is in the hands of the shippers.

The benefit of the five dollars a ton jump in price, which was recently authorized by the Vegetable Board, therefore, will be of direct benefit to the growers. Estimates of the onion tonnage still on hand vary from five to six hundred tons. It is difficult to make an exact estimate owing to the fact that at this time of the year there is a constant change on account of loss from shrinkage.

Mr. J. H. Hazelwood left on Tuesday, via C.P.R., for Revelstoke.

REPRESENTATION AT EMPIRE FRUIT CONFERENCE

B.C.F.G.A., Tree Fruit Board
And Shippers' Council Will Make Selection

Mr. A. K. Loyd, President of the B.C.F.G.A., a member of the Tree Fruit Board, and a member of the Shippers' Council will together appoint the British Columbia representative to attend the Empire Fruit Conference in London, sometime in the month of June, according to a decision reached at the Directors' meeting of the B.C.F.G.A. in Kelowna on Tuesday.

This composite committee will decide who, in their opinion, is best able to represent this province. The Horticultural Council meeting in Ottawa decided that there should be three Canadian representatives, one from the Council, one from Nova Scotia, and one from British Columbia.

In regard to the Imperial Fruit Show, President Loyd reported that there is a strong movement on foot in Great Britain to show what can be done with home-grown apples, and he is of the opinion that British Columbia should make a special effort to make a real display at the Fruit Show.

Mr. Loyd is of the opinion that a better impression can be made by a commercial show than a purely competitive one.

Mr. Barrat stated that, in order to act as a slight encouragement to exhibitors, the Tree Fruit Board has offered to pay for the transportation of the fruit of any exhibit winning prizes for outstanding merit.

Considerable discussion ensued as to whether or not British Columbia should send a queen to the Fruit Show. Mr. Loyd pointed-out that Nova Scotia had done this last year, and had derived a great deal of favourable publicity from it. There was some dissenting opinion as to the value of any publicity won at the Fruit Show, because of the small importance placed upon the show by the general British public and because of the poor attendance. Mr. Barrat pointed out that the total attendance at the Show was just about that of one day at the Toronto Exhibition. Dealers in the Old Country, he stated, placed little or no importance on the Show.

It was decided to communicate with the Shippers' Council, and the matter was placed in the hands of the committee meeting the Council, to discuss representation at the Empire Fruit Conference.

SOUTHERN EXTENSION OF K.V.R. MAY BE DELAYED

Prospect Of Light Fruit Season Is Stumbling Block

OSOYOOS, April 2.—The extension of the line of the Kettle Valley Railway to Osoyoos may be delayed a year owing to the light fruit crop prospect for the season.

A letter has been forwarded, however, to Mr. C. A. Cotterell, Assistant General Manager of the C.P.R., Vancouver, explaining that there is a definite prospect of an increased vegetable tonnage that would more than offset the light fruit crop.

In reply to this communication, Mr. Cotterell stated that the final decision has not yet been made.

PIONEER DAYS IN CANADA'S GREAT WEST

Interesting Reminiscences Of Riel Rebellion Era Related
By Mr. A. E. Cox

The area which now comprises British Columbia was never thought of as the Canadian West in the early eighties," was the interesting statement of Mr. A. E. Cox, who addressed the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Board of Trade at a dinner meeting in the Royal Anne Hotel, on Wednesday night of last week.

Mr. Cox went on to explain that the "West" was meant by the area lying between the foothills of the Rockies and Kootenai in the East, while our present province was considered a part of the Far East.

The underlying reason for the Riel rebellions was the surveying and re-division of land along the Red River, where the Metis, or half-breeds, lived in very much the same fashion as did the habitants in Quebec, namely, in long narrow farms with a small area facing on the river bank, the river being the chief mode of transportation and communication. When their land was surveyed, the settlers began to wonder if they were going to be dispossessed, and became ready material for the well educated Louis Riel to work on.

"Riel was an educated man, a graduate of Laval College, and while the government hung him, they later granted what he had fought for," explained Mr. Cox, who is of the opinion that the punishment meted out to Riel was far too severe. "The Hudson's Bay Company, at one time, gave him a thousand dollars to get out of the country, but he came back."

Mr. Cox aroused considerable laughter with his recollections of Winnipeg in the early days, when "you could stick a pole twenty-five feet down into the mud on the main street."

Construction work on the C.P.R. formed an interesting section of Mr. Cox's reminiscences, and he explained that when he first arrived in Calgary, the depot was a box car. Recollections of Donald Mann and Herbert Holt, when both were small-time contractors on the railway, and of the hardships that were encountered on the infant road greatly interested his listeners.

A vivid description of his experiences freighting on the rivers, and of being shot at from the banks by hostile Indians was given by the speaker.

"We were carrying ammunition and grain, so we stacked the grain up along the sides of the scow as a breast-work, opened the ammunition and did a little shooting on our own account. I saw Poundmaker and Big Bear, the great chiefs, and I saw Louis Riel chained to a stanchion on a river steamer, after he had been captured by two scouts. He escaped after that, though, and was not hung until some time later. I worked on the old Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, and it was there that I met Lord Lansdowne, who later became Governor-General."

Homestead life was the next feature of the early days to receive attention from Mr. Cox, and he related some of his experiences in this phase of pioneering.

"On the homestead life was hard," stated the speaker, "but the people were different. They were united, and were always ready with co-operation to the fullest degree. There was no crime, for there was nothing to steal. If a man committed a serious offence, which a man might as well be dead."

STANLEY CUP SEMI-FINALS TO BE BROADCAST TONIGHT

TORONTO, April 2. The semi-final game for the Stanley Cup, between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Americans, will be broadcast tonight over the Canadian Commission network.

It was a community affair and he would receive punishment probably by being banished out of the neighbourhood. Everything was barter. We made our own coffee, took our grain to the mill, and returned with our flour, after the miller had deducted his toll. When a man killed his pig, he would be helped by his neighbours, and would give them meat. If a man needed help, he got it.

"It is amazing what can be done in an emergency," he went on to say. "A man had to be a Jack of all trades. There is one point, however, that I would like to make clear, and that is that I have never met better men than populated the West in the early days. There was no cutthroat competition, and business was conducted along a better principle. The men were real men and gentlemen, who needed no treaties, whose word was their bond, and who held the goodwill of their fellow men, without which a man might as well be dead."
